Conference Committees

Members of the Arkansas Annual Conference,

Typically at the beginning of a new quadrennium there are numerous changes in the conference leadership, and this year is no different. For this reason the whole leadership nominations report is presented here. This full Leadership Report is also available online at https://arumc.org/annual-conference-2024/ We on the Nominations Committee want to thank everyone who has agreed to serve on a conference committee, council or board.

The Nominations Committee works diligently to put people on committees that best match their interests and gifts. We also seek to have diversity of gender, race, ethnicity, age, and representation from different districts and church sizes. Please note that as a result of a change to our Standing Rules adopted at the 2023 Annual Conference, persons may now serve on two boards or committees at one time.

While we seek to fill every position, every year there are several positions still waiting to be filled. This year we have included a list of positions that are still open on the last page of this report. We encourage you to review these and fill out a self-nomination form if you are interested in serving in one of the positions that is currently unfilled or on another committee in the future. These Self-nomination forms are available on the conference website under the forms and documents tab at ttps://arumc.wufoo.com/forms/nominations-profile-sheet/

Blessings,
Rev. Katie Goss Pearce

Introduction
Sexual misconduct is a current and real problem within The United Methodist Church. Today, we acknowledge there are people here who have been mistreated, abused, and assaulted by clergy and lay leaders in the Church.

We honor those who have shared their stories and those who have sat with their stories in silence. We commend the courage of all survivors of sexual misconduct to walk a path they did not choose.

Too often those who suffer from sexual misconduct are silenced, ignored, or not believed by the Church.

Sexual misconduct includes psychological, emotional, and spiritual abuse. This apology is a beginning point for confession and hope in prevention and response to sexual misconduct in The United Methodist Church.

Apology
The United Methodist Church apologizes for the times we allowed our desire to protect the Church to outweigh our desire to care for victims and survivors of sexual misconduct. We have allowed polity and protection of the institutional Church prevent us from holding persons accountable, thus perpetuating harm within our local churches and other ministry settings, and damaging the whole United Methodist connection.

We apologize for the times we have not listened to you, doubted your stories, ignored your wounds, and have not tended to your pain. We believe this has contributed to allowing an unsafe culture to exist.

An apology is worthless without a commitment to the challenging work which must follow. The United Methodist Church pledges to:

1. Apologize in every annual conference across the connection.
2. Educate Church leaders regarding sacred trust in ministerial relationships and power imbalance within those relationships.
3. Provide healing resources to all affected in accordance with ¶ 362. Complaint Procedures.
4. Develop a trauma-informed response to complaints of sexual misconduct.

This apology alone is insufficient for healing. The United Methodist Church accepts our responsibility and publicly states our commitment to carry out the steps named to do no more harm. May God's blessing and never-ending love guide our work and see it through.

Annual Reports

The Arkansas Annual Conference of the United Methodist Church Episcopal Address

Bishop Laura Merrill

I Corinthians 13:1-7,13

When you go and look up "home" on the internet, let me just prepare you–you're gonna get lots of hits. At the top, you'll have a bunch of signs for sale on Etsy, with heartwarming words written in swirly script for you to hang in your kitchen. "It's good to be home." "Make yourself at home." "May your journey always lead you home." And, "Snuggle up." There were quotes from a Habitat for Humanity homeowner and from realtors. And then there are the home quotes from literature–one list quoted everybody from Maya Angelou to Confucius to Winnie the Pooh. I think my favorite was Winnie the Pooh, who said: "Well, y'see, we keep looking for home, but we keep finding this pit, so I just thought that if we looked for this pit, we might find home."

The fact that there are so many different expressions of this theme means it's important. Across culture, across history, home is an idea that resonates deeply. It's about where we came from, the circumstances and influences that shaped us as children. It's about the landscape our eyes and hearts find familiar, whether delta or mountain, forest or river. It's about people we love or now miss, the food they cooked for us, the wisdom they taught us, the rest they gave us, the welcome and forgiveness they offered us, even when we didn't deserve it.

Home is also about what we choose as adults, to the degree that we're able. Where we live, which people we surround ourselves with and make part of our everyday lives; whether we cook and entertain a social life in our house, or keep it more as a private place–these are choices we make if we can, to build a life that looks like us. Some of us also know what it means to try to find home in a place or a situation that you would not choose but don't have the power or resources to change. A place that's falling down or isn't safe. A place where you're hurt by the ones who are supposed to love and care for you. We know that sometimes you have to leave home to find or save your life. Even Jesus had a complicated relationship with his hometown folk.

The point is, all of this runs deep. The thought of home can feel elusive, like we can never quite reach it. Yet it also engages and reflects who we are, the innermost part of us, our values and personality, our dislikes and joy. And I believe all the plaques and quotes are pointing at the fact that the ideal of home, whether the home we have or the one we yearn for, is the place where we are seen, and known, and loved. You and I as Christians profess that this kind of knowing, this kind of yearning can only be fully met in the love of God. The love and affirmation of our home folks can go a long way toward filling up our hearts. But finally, the yearning for home is the yearning for God. Saint Augustine didn't speak the word "home," but he described it all the same: "You have made us for yourself, O Lord, and our hearts are restless until they find their rest in you."

So it is that we came to claim the theme, Finding Home, for this annual conference. Much of the reporting you will hear in these three days will be about ways we as United Methodists work to find our home in God, as well as how we invite others to find their home in God, too. You're going to hear about a veritable explosion of laity stepping up to be trained and to serve as leaders in our church. We'll learn about ways we can move outreach ministries toward real friendship with the people we serve. We'll talk about new resources that will help us engage with new people. We'll hear about children, youth, and young adults, growing as disciples; and we'll learn how we can care better for God's good earth. We'll meet missionaries and hear about mission teams and institutions that expand our connection. And we'll work on the sustainable administration of our common ministry as an annual conference. All of that is about building a context, a home of sorts, where people of faith can learn and grow in Jesus Christ, and where we can serve in his name, which helps us learn and grow even further.

I'd like to talk about one other aspect of home as we experience it as an annual conference–the way we find home in one another. As you heard from the delegate panel earlier today, a lot happened at our long-awaited General Conference in Charlotte. One of the changes made, as you know, was to remove the incompatibility language and the restrictions on ministry with and by gay and lesbian people in our church. It feels like an awkward thing to speak into this room today the fact that we are not of one mind on the changes made at General Conference, but of course it's the truth. There are people here today and in our churches who didn't want the Discipline to change and who now are determining where or whether they fit into this new reality. That's a legitimate and faithful response to the changes happening in our family.

Meanwhile, there are others of us who for the first time feel fully known and loved by their church. The tears and singing and flood of emotions that happened in Charlotte as a result of this vote came from a very deep place and were a long time coming. Many of us that day held the memory of beautiful servants of God who died before seeing the door open to their covenant love or their service in ministry. I've heard multiple stories here in Arkansas of faithful United Methodists who have long served the ministries of their local congregation, sung in worship, prayed for others, written checks, invited new people to church, showed up for decades, but only now have felt free to share their full identity, as gay or lesbian Christians. After all these years, to finally be fully seen in the place they call home and where they have invested and been faithful to God, has meant the world.

These changes have opened doors to new people, too, in Arkansas churches south and north, urban and rural, people who would not have come to a church before but now are coming to ours, where our clergy and our laity are helping them meet the living Christ, face to face. So the shift we are experiencing invites us to consider how we will welcome and entertain one another in our differences. It gives us the chance to choose what kind of Christian home we're going to maintain, for ourselves and others. Because the fact is that our differences in this moment, combined with or even inspired by forces in the world around us, could easily entice us away from each other.

This environment that pushes us apart reminds me of a ride at Six Flags, back when I was a kid, called the Spindletop. It apparently was discontinued in 1989, which was apparently when they figured out that it wasn't safe. If you're old like me, you'll remember that you and a bunch of other people would file into a big cylinder and stand against the wall. Then the cylinder would start to spin. It would go faster and faster, and finally the centrifugal force would push you out and plaster you to the wall. Then finally, the floor would drop out, and there you would hang—face, hair, clothes, all pushed outward by the pressure.

(1) This is what it looked like, well before 1989. (2) These rides have been around for a while. (3) As I looked online for photos from Six Flags, I actually found some of what seems to be a similar ride in Sydney, Australia, called The Rotor. (4) On this ride, people would file in and stand around a center pole. What I haven't been able to figure out is how they get from here—(5) to here. You'll note they're flung out along the wall of the cylinder, but their feet are still on the floor. Then it's a big jump to here. (6) I also found a photo of spectators, (7) people who are glad not to participate but instead get to watch other people get spun out. And, of course, you have to end up here (8), where we can clearly see how a ride like this might end up getting discontinued.

So, a couple of things.

One is to note that once the ride is in full gear, even if you wanted to stand in the middle, around that center pole, even if you could hang on and withstand the pressure flinging you away from the person across from you, you wouldn't be able to, because the floor drops out. There is no place to stand. Another thing to note is that while the ride in this last picture looks fun, we all know that headache and vomiting are likely to result if it goes on too long. We are not built for this kind of ride. (close slide) I don't know about you, but I am tired of being flung away from other people. I am grieved by the ways we fling ourselves away from others. I'll be honest and say that I understand why we do that, why we section ourselves off. Sometimes, as I've said, you have to separate yourself for protection, to find or save your life. Sometimes it just gives you comfort and lowers your overall stress. But in these days of so much division, where meanness and cynicism and attack are somehow acceptable forms of social discourse, and cutoff can feel like a moral act of separation from evil–in that context, I believe God is calling us, the United Methodist Church, to be people who stand in the middle. Not with no opinions, not with wishy-washy values or principles, not with no heritage or Christian belief. But standing on the firm floor of our conviction that love, in the economy of God, is more valuable than perspective. Even if your opinions are correct, even if your reading of the scriptures is right, even if your belief is without blemish–it is love that brings life, love that works miracles, love that brings salvation to the human heart, love that can make a way out of no way.

I Corinthians 13:1-7,13
If I speak in the tongues of humans and of angels but do not have love, I am a noisy gong or a clanging cymbal. And if I have prophetic powers and understand all mysteries and all knowledge and if I have all faith so as to remove mountains but do not have love, I am nothing. If I give away all my possessions and if I hand over my body so that I may boast but do not have love, I gain nothing.

Love is patient; love is kind; love is not envious or boastful or arrogant or rude. It does not insist on its own way; it is not irritable; it keeps no record of wrongs; it does not rejoice in wrongdoing but rejoices in the truth. It bears all things, believes all things, hopes all things, endures all things. …now faith, hope, and love remain, these three, and the greatest of these is love.

Sounds like home to me. Sounds like the place that every person yearns for. Sounds like a place, a way, a table, that Jesus Christ invites us to make and to keep, by the power of the Holy Spirit, as his church. Because the stakes are high, for far too many of this world's people. When you define home as love, the number of homeless people in the world is higher than any of us can count.

This is the opportunity God has seen fit to grant to us, all mixed up in the middle of what we don't know. Some of you in this room, and others in your churches are still deciding whether this denomination is the right place for you to live out your life of faith. As you discern, all I would ask is that you reflect on the preciousness of the gift that God has given us, as we have made home and been home for each other, even in disagreement. Remember how you have loved the people in your church, and how they have loved you. I beg you not to regard these relationships lightly, for they have been Christ's handiwork and Christ's gift to you. We know home changes over time; there's no way for it to stay the same in every way. But the knowing, the seeing, the loving–these must continue, as our divine work of home making and home keeping. If you want to be a part of that work, there will always be a place for you and who you are in this conference and in this church.

For those of us who do trust that we are in the right place, this is a time of immense possibility. The fact that our institution is smaller means it's time to experiment with new ways of connecting and leveraging our resources. The fact that the culture doesn't always understand or value the church, and vice-versa, means we get to try new ways to communicate the good news of the gospel with new people. The fact that we are surrounded by people who are spun out and strung out, who are weary and heavy-laden, who wonder if the pit they keep finding is actually home, means we get to invite them to stand with us and with Christ, to rest on solid ground and find peace. The fact that too many people have heard that the way they were made is not precious in the sight of God means we get to be the ones who tell them they are beloved. The fact that it's Juneteenth, and the injustice suffered by Black people that we remember today also continues as a current legacy means we get to step up behind and alongside courageous Black people to build a new legacy of justice, what love looks like in public. And the fact that tornadoes rip up people's actual homes means that I've been thinking about learning how to use a chainsaw–y'all, this is our time!

You are some hospitable people. I've seen it over and over. So reach across the divide, in Jesus' name. Paint a sign to hang above your table. Piece together a quilt, to warm a neighbor. Make somebody's favorite food. Teach the children, and tell them they're awesome. Welcome the teenager's friend from school. Pray good things for the cousin who gets on your last nerve and the uncle who always talks politics. Let them tell tales on you from back when you did stupid things.

Remember where you came from. Trust where Christ is leading us, together. And to the glory of God, may we commit ourselves to helping other people find home.

Laity Address
Conference Lay Leader, Kathy Conley

Thank you Bishop Merrill and the Appointive Cabinet, and our honored guests. Good morning to everyone present this second day of our Arkansas Annual Conference.

I want to begin this morning with a phrase I heard recently from, I think, our Bishop. That phase is "Lead with Peace".

How important those words are right now in this moment in history. To be the one who brings peace into any situation conquers the feelings of hate, destruction, and chaos. As I pondered those words, I began to go deeper into their meaning in all parts of my life. I began to think what it would mean if I experienced fully the sacred stillness of the Holy Spirit . . . If I honored the Spirit's calling in my heart and soul. What good could we bring to the world if we truly began to live out every day God's peaceful, inclusive words of "all who come, all who seek, all who forgive, all who give comfort, all who cry out for mercy and healing, all who bring peace, all who worship the everlasting God - all who love!" And I realized, that is what our Lord Jesus taught.

As we allow God to work within us in a new way we become more comfortable in seeing all the people - all of God's children. We look for ways to open our doors and welcome all to the Lord's table. That is what our Lord Jesus taught.

As we read the Scriptures and seek to share the teachings of love and grace with others, we come to know that the witness of our lives is much more important than the words of our mouth. That is what our Lord Jesus taught.

The teachings of Jesus are first and foremost where our attention lies as a Christian. Our constant prayer is for God to help us draw others to Christ by the way we live our lives, serving Him in pure love and in faithfulness.

That is what our Lord Jesus taught.

And speaking of sharing the teachings of Jesus, we are excited to bring to you the success of our Certified Lay Ministry Academy that is training, supporting and gaining momentum this year through the close eye of Teresa Bolin, Karen Anderson and Jim Silva. We have had 24 classes taught around the Conference hosted by 7 churches. 178 Lay Servants have been trained.

I would like to recognize the 5 people in our first CLM group who have completed their course this year and will receive their Certified Lay Ministry certificate. Please stand when I call your name. Amy Ezell, Brenda Gullett, James Sawyer, Jim Silva, Teresa Bolin.

Now, if you are a Certified Lay Servant please stand. Stand if you are a Certified Lay Speaker. If you've taught at any of our classes please stand. Thank you to all who seek ways to develop your faith and to grow closer to God. You don't have to preach, or accept an assignment to fill a pulpit, but that is nice. This is another way that people can learn and share our Wesleyan theology in a way that respects and encourages our unique view of grace, mercy and love as God works in each of us to go on to perfection. That is what our Lord Jesus taught.

For more information, there is a table set up in the hall with folks ready to talk to you about this ministry and how to sign up for the next classes.

I would like to close by asking you to Dream. In our Laity Session we shared "what new things we are doing with Jesus this year". Most all that was shared started with a dream. So I would like to encourage you to Dream - Dream Big! Implement new ideas, mission outreach, ways to interact with your community, ways to do and be church. Dream with invigorating excitement. With energetic purpose always knowing that God will be with you. And always remembering to watch over one another in love.

God uses love to stretch us in ways that we may find uncomfortable at first. But as we grow, study, become closer to God's Holy Spirit, we come to see the way God sees. That all of God's creation is of sacred worth and to be cared for.

We are following the teachings of Jesus when we include everyone into the circle of the presence of Christ. A circle. No beginning and no end. That is such a good description of God and God's love and the way our love should manifest itself in the world. From the beginning of time, we have been included. No in or no out. Always included. To break the circle must break the heart of God. So grab a hand - then grab another. Look around and really see one another in this circle of God's love. We are everyday living into the joy of being loved and accepted and welcomed. That is why Jesus came to the earth. To show us how we are to live together and He showed us in so many ways. Every day He continues to show us how to love as He loved.

As Christians, we are different because Jesus knows our name and teaches us to be full of His mercy and grace when we are with others. We praise Him and live in gratitude that we also know His Name and are eternally included in His family. Thank you Jesus, for making us Your people and accepting us as we are. May we be good stewards of Your love to everyone we meet.

People of God, Devoted United Methodist Christians - Lead with peace, experience God's sacred stillness, honor the Holy Spirit's calling in your heart and in your soul. Love one another. That is what our Lord Jesus taught.

It is my sincere honor to serve you and the Arkansas Conference as your Lay Leader.

Kathy Conley

Arkansas Conference Council on Finance and Administration
Little Rock, Arkansas

We have audited the modified cash basis financial statements of the Arkansas Conference of the United Methodist Church (the Conference) as of and for the year ended June 30, 2023, and have issued our report thereon dated April 4, 2024. Professional standards require that we advise you of the following matters relating to our audit.

Our Responsibility in Relation to the Financial Statement Audit

As communicated in our engagement letter dated December 15, 2023, our responsibility, as described by professional standards, is to form and express an opinion about whether the financial statements that have been prepared by management with Arkansas Conference Council on Finance and Administration's (the Council) oversight are presented fairly, in all material respects, in accordance with the modified cash basis of accounting. Our audit of the financial statements does not relieve management or the members of the Council of its respective responsibilities.

Our responsibility, as prescribed by professional standards, is to plan and perform our audit to obtain reasonable, rather than absolute, assurance about whether the financial statements are free of material misstatement. An audit of financial statements includes consideration of internal control over financial reporting as a basis for designing audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the entity's internal control over financial reporting. Accordingly, as part of our audit, we considered the internal control of the Conference solely for the purpose of determining our audit procedures and not to provide any assurances concerning such internal control.

We are also responsible for communicating significant matters related to the audit that are, in our professional judgment, relevant to management and the Council's responsibilities in overseeing the financial reporting process. However, we are not required to design procedures for the purpose of identifying other matters to communicate to management and the Council.

Planned Scope and Timing of the Audit

We conducted our audit consistent with the planned scope and timing we previously communicated to the Council in our engagement letter dated December 15, 2023.

Compliance with all Ethics Requirements Regarding Independence

The engagement team, others in our firm, as appropriate, and our firm have complied with all relevant ethical requirements regarding independence.

We have assisted management in drafting the modified cash basis financial statements and the notes to the financial statements based on information provided by management. In addition, we have performed additional procedures outside of the normal course of the audit related to the Conference's health retirement account. These are nonattest services, which are services above and beyond those required to perform an audit in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards in the United States of America. Management has reviewed, approved and accepted responsibility for the results of all nonattest services performed by us. All nonattest services were subject to supervisory review by experienced members of the audit engagement team and the engagement partner. In addition, the financial statements and the notes to the financial statements have been subjected to a technical review by an additional partner who was not directly involved in the Conference's audit.

Significant Risks Identified

We have identified improper revenue recognition, management override of internal controls and identification and accounting for support with donor restrictions and resulting net assets with donor restrictions as significant risks of material misstatement of the financial statements. We obtained an understanding of the design and implementation of policies and procedures related to these areas of risk and we planned tailored audit procedures to address the identified risks. Based on our audit procedures, we did not identify any other significant risks to the Conference.

Qualitative Aspects of the Entity's Significant Accounting Practices

Significant Accounting Policies

Management has the responsibility to select and use appropriate accounting policies. A summary of the significant accounting policies adopted by the Conference is included in Note 2 to the financial statements. As disclosed in Note 2 to the financial statements, the financial statements have been prepared using the modified cash basis of accounting. There have been no initial selection of accounting policies and no changes in significant accounting policies or their application during the year ended June 30, 2023. No matters have come to our attention that would require us, under professional standards, to inform management or the Council about the methods used to account for significant unusual transactions and the effect of significant accounting policies in controversial or emerging areas for which there is a lack of authoritative guidance or consensus.

Significant Accounting Estimates

Accounting estimates are an integral part of the financial statements prepared by management and are based on management's current judgments. Those judgments are normally based on knowledge and experience about past and current events and assumptions about future events. Certain accounting estimates are particularly sensitive because of their significance to the financial statements and because of the possibility that future events affecting them may differ markedly from management's current judgments.

The most sensitive accounting estimates affecting the financial statements are the estimated useful lives of property and equipment and the fair value of investments, as disclosed in Notes 2 and 3 to the financial statements, respectively. The estimated useful lives of the Conference's property and equipment are determined by management based on expectations regarding the length of time the assets will be in service. The fair value estimates are based on market pricing information provided by financial institutions with which the Conference maintains accounts. We evaluated the key factors and assumptions used to develop these estimates and determined that it is reasonable in relation to the financial statements taken as a whole.

Financial Statement Disclosures

Certain financial statement disclosures involve significant judgment and are particularly sensitive because of their significance to financial statement users. Note 12 to the financial statements discloses current pending litigation, and the Conference's portion of settlement payments that were paid out.

Significant Unusual Transactions

For purposes of this communication, professional standards require us to communicate to the Board of Directors significant unusual transactions identified during our audit. There were no significant unusual transactions identified as a result of our audit procedures.

Identified or Suspected Fraud

We have not identified, nor have we obtained information that indicates fraud may have occurred.

Significant Difficulties Encountered during the Audit

We encountered no significant difficulties in dealing with management relating to the performance of the audit.

Corrected and Uncorrected Misstatements

For purposes of this communication, professional standards require us to accumulate all known and likely misstatements identified during the audit, other than those that we believe are trivial, and communicate them to the appropriate level of management. Further, professional standards require us to also communicate the effect of uncorrected misstatements related to prior periods on the relevant classes of transactions, account balances or disclosures, and the financial statements as a whole. We have no such misstatements to report.

In addition, professional standards require us to communicate to you all material, corrected misstatements that were brought to the attention of management as a result of our audit procedures. We have no such misstatements to report.

Disagreements with Management

For purposes of this communication, professional standards define a disagreement with management as a matter, whether or not resolved to our satisfaction, concerning a financial accounting, reporting or auditing matter, which could be significant to the Conference's financial statements or the auditor's report. No such disagreements arose during the course of the audit.

Circumstances that Affect the Form and Content of the Auditor's Report

For purposes of this communication, professional standards require us to communicate any circumstances that affect the form and content of our auditor's report. We issued an unmodified opinion on the financial statements for the year ended June 30, 2023. An emphasis of matter paragraph is included following our opinion, alerting the reader that the Conference's financial statements are prepared on the modified cash basis of accounting.

Representations Requested from Management

We have requested certain written representations from management, which are included in the management representation letter dated April 4, 2024, a copy of which is included in Attachment A.

Management's Consultations with Other Accountants

In some cases, management may decide to consult with other accountants about auditing and accounting matters. Management informed us that, and to our knowledge, there were no consultations with other accountants regarding auditing and accounting matters.

Other Significant Matters, Findings or Issues

In the normal course of our professional association with the Conference, we generally discuss a variety of matters, including the application of accounting principles and auditing standards, significant events or transactions that occurred during the year, operating conditions affecting the Conference and operating plans and strategies that may affect the risks of material misstatement. None of the matters discussed resulted in a condition to our retention as the Conference's auditors.

This information is intended solely for the use of the Council and management of the Conference and is not intended to be and should not be used by anyone other than these specified parties.

Respectfully,

Landmark PLC

INDEPENDENT AUDITOR'S REPORT

We have audited the financial statements of the Arkansas Conference of the United Methodist Church, Inc. (the Conference), which comprise the statements of assets, liabilities and net assets – modified cash basis as of June 30, 2023 and 2022, and the related statements of revenues, expenses and changes in net assets – modified cash basis for the years then ended, and the related notes to the financial statements.

In our opinion, the accompanying financial statements present fairly, in all material respects, the assets, liabilities and net assets of the Conference as of June 30, 2023 and 2022, and its revenue, expenses and changes in net assets for the years then ended, in accordance with the modified cash basis of accounting as described in Note 2 to the financial statements.

Basis for Opinion

We conducted our audits in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America (U.S. GAAS). Our responsibilities under those standards are further described in the Auditor's Responsibilities for the Audit of the Financial Statements section of our report. We are required to be independent of the Conference and to meet our other ethical responsibilities, in accordance with the relevant ethical requirements relating to our audits. We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our audit opinion.

Emphasis of Matter – Basis of Accounting

We draw attention to Note 2 to the financial statements, which describes the basis of accounting. The financial statements are prepared on the modified cash basis of accounting, which is a basis of accounting other than accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America. Our opinion is not modified with respect to this matter.

Responsibilities of Management for the Financial Statements

Management is responsible for the preparation and fair presentation of these financial statements in accordance with the modified cash basis of accounting described in Note 2 to the financial statements, and for determining that the modified cash basis of accounting is an acceptable basis for the preparation of the financial statements in the circumstances. Management is also responsible for the design, implementation and maintenance of internal control relevant to the preparation and fair presentation of financial statements that are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

Auditor's Responsibilities for the Audit of the Financial Statements

Our objectives are to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements as a whole are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error, and to issue an auditor's report that includes our opinion. Reasonable assurance is a high level of assurance, but is not absolute assurance, and therefore is not a guarantee that an audit conducted in accordance with U.S. GAAS will always detect a material misstatement when it exists. The risk of not detecting a material misstatement resulting from fraud is higher than for one resulting from error, as fraud may involve collusion, forgery, intentional omissions, misrepresentations or the override of internal control. Misstatements are considered material if there is a substantial likelihood that, individually or in the aggregate, they would influence the judgment made by a reasonable user based on the financial statements.

In performing an audit in accordance with U.S. GAAS, we:

- Exercise professional judgment and maintain professional skepticism throughout the audits.
- Identify and assess the risks of material misstatement of the financial statements, whether due to fraud or error, and design and perform audit procedures responsive to those risks. Such procedures include examining, on a test basis, evidence regarding the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements.
- Obtain an understanding of internal control relevant to the audits in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the Conference's internal control. Accordingly, no such opinion is expressed.
- Evaluate the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of significant accounting estimates made by management, as well as evaluate the overall presentation of the financial statements.
- Conclude whether, in our judgment, there are conditions or events, considered in the aggregate, that raise substantial doubt about the Conference's ability to continue as a going concern for a reasonable period of time.

We are required to communicate with those charged with governance regarding, among other matters, the planned scope and timing of the audits, significant audit findings, and certain internal control-related matters that we identified during the audits.

Notes to Financial Statements
June 30, 2023 and 2022

NOTE 1: NATURE OF ACTIVITIES

The Arkansas Conference of the United Methodist Church, Inc. (the Conference) is a service organization for the United Methodist Church throughout the state of Arkansas. The mission of the Conference is to make disciples for Jesus Christ by equipping local churches for missions and by providing a connection for ministry beyond the congregation, all to the glory of God. The Conference receives tithes and apportionments from churches located in the state of Arkansas and distributes the tithes and apportionments in accordance with the approved budget set by the Arkansas Annual Conference.

NOTE 2: SUMMARY OF SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES

Basis of Accounting

The accompanying financial statements have been prepared on the modified cash basis of accounting, which is a basis of accounting other than generally accepted accounting principles in the United States of America. Under that basis, the only assets recognized are cash and cash equivalents, investments, local church apportionments in-transit, prepaid apportionments and property and equipment, and the liabilities that are recognized are apportioned and other funds payable, note payable and amounts held for others. Non-cash transactions, excluding unrealized gains (losses) on investments and depreciation of property and equipment over their estimated useful lives, are not recorded in the financial statements; therefore, non-cash donations are not recorded as receipts when received.

Local church apportionments in-transit represent amounts that churches have budgeted to pay but have not yet been received by the Conference. Apportioned and other funds payable include amounts the Conference is budgeted to pay according to the budget approved by the churches at the Arkansas Annual Conference but are not yet disbursed by the Conference.

Basis of Presentation

The Conference reports information regarding its financial position and activities according to the following two classes of net assets:

Net Assets without Donor Restriction—Net assets that are not subject to or are no longer subject to donor-imposed stipulations.

Net Assets with Donor Restriction—Net assets whose use is limited by donor-imposed time and/or purpose restrictions.

Cash and Cash Equivalents

The Conference considers all deposits with financial institutions, as well as highly liquid investments with an original maturity of three months or less, to be cash equivalents.

Investments
Investments include units of participation in separately pooled funds administered by the United Methodist Foundation of Arkansas (the Foundation) and Wespath Benefits and Investments (Wespath). See Note 3 for additional information regarding these pooled funds and policies for determining fair value.

Purchases and sales are recorded on a trade-date basis. Dividends and interest, as well as realized and unrealized gains and losses, are reflected as net investment return in the statements of revenues, expenses and changes in net assets – modified cash basis.

Property and Equipment, Net
Property and equipment are reported at historical cost, net of depreciation. Additions and improvements in excess of $10,000 or more are capitalized, while purchases under this threshold are expensed in the period incurred. Depreciation is calculated using the straight-line method over the estimated useful lives of the assets, which range from five to thirty years.

Cash Receipts
The Conference's cash receipts are restricted to fulfilling the purpose for which the donor remitted the funds. The Conference's goal is to distribute the funds received for the ultimate benefit of the third party done in a timely and efficient manner.

Cash receipts that are restricted by the donor are recorded as increases in net assets without donor restrictions if the restriction expires in the reporting period in which the support is recognized. All other donor-restricted contributions are reported as increases in net assets with donor restrictions. When a restriction expires (that is, when a stipulated time period ends or a purpose restriction is accomplished), donor restricted net assets are reclassified to net assets without donor restriction and reported in the statements of revenues, expenses and changes in net assets – modified cash basis as "net assets released from restrictions."

The Conference classifies funds based on their funding source. The financial statements contain two types of funds: tithe and other. Tithe funds are calculated by local churches as 10% of their receipts with some allowed adjustments. Other funds are obtained through the collection efforts of the committees established to oversee the individual funds. The Conference maintains and disburses these funds as requested by these committees.

Income Taxes
The Conference is a tax-exempt organization under Section 501(c)(3) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended, and is not a private foundation. Accounting standards require the Conference to evaluate tax positions and recognize a tax liability (or asset) if the Conference has taken an uncertain position that more likely than not would not be sustained upon examination by the Internal Revenue Service. The Conference has analyzed the tax positions taken and has concluded that as of June 30, 2023 and 2022, there are no uncertain positions taken or expected to be taken that would require the recognition of a liability (or asset) or disclosure in the financial statements.

Functional Expenses
The Conference considers all disbursements to be related to its programs and therefore does not allocate disbursements between program, general and administrative and fundraising for financial statement presentation. See Note 11 to the financial statements for disclosures related to disbursements by natural category.

Use of Estimates
The preparation of financial statements in conformity with the modified cash basis of accounting requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the amounts reported in the financial statements and accompanying notes. Actual results could differ from those estimates.

NOTE 3: DEPOSITS AND INVESTMENTS

Cash and Cash Equivalents
At times during the years ended June 30, 2023 and 2022, cash and cash equivalents balances exceeded the amounts insured by the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation (FDIC) and were not collateralized. In the event of an institutional failure, the excess over FDIC insurance may not be recoverable. The Conference's total bank balance maintained at multiple financial institutions at June 30, 2023 and 2022, was $8,484,154 and $7,715,525, of which $587,840 and $273,713 was not insured or collateralized at June 30, 2023 and 2022, respectively.

Investments
The Conference primarily invests its funds in separately pooled funds administered by the Foundation and Wespath. The Foundation and Wespath manage the pooled funds, which are invested in equity and fixed-income securities, mutual funds, investment pools, partnership interest and notes receivable. These investments are available to be withdrawn upon written notice to the Foundation and Wespath. There are no restrictions on withdrawal amounts for these investments.

The fair value of amounts invested in pooled funds managed by the Foundation and Wespath is based on the Conference's interest in the pooled funds, which are evidenced by a unit. The value of a unit is calculated based on the fair value of the underlying assets, adjusted for the effects of such transactions as administrative fees and investment income that has not been reinvested in the underlying assets, as reported by the Foundation and Wespath, because there is no ready market for the assets.

At June 30, 2023 and 2022, the Conference's fair value of the units of participation in the pooled funds at the Foundation and Wespath are as follows:

	2023	2022
Foundation	$ 9,509,575	$ 9,118,525

These resources are invested for long-term appreciation but may be spent at the discretion of the Council. See Notes 3 and 6 for further information about the Conference's investments and board designated net assets, respectively.

NOTE 8: DEFINED CONTRIBUTION PENSION PLANS

Eligible Conference and participating church employees are covered under one of two defined contribution pension plans as follows:

a. Ministerial employees – Eligible ministerial employees are covered under a defined contribution pension whereby the participant contributes 3% of compensation and the church or Conference contributes 10% to 12% of the participant's annual contribution base (compensation) based on the Conference average compensation as calculated by the General Board of Pensions.

b. Lay personnel – Eligible lay employees are covered under a defined contribution pension plan whereby the participant contributes at least 3% and the Conference contributes 9% of the participant's annual contribution base (compensation).

Both plans are multi-employer plans by which all contributed assets of participating employers and employees are commingled and are not segregated by employer.

Total contributions to both plans for Conference staff were approximately $197,000 and $133,000 for the years ended June 30, 2023 and 2022, respectively.

NOTE 9: OTHER POSTRETIREMENT BENEFIT PLAN

The Conference provides a monthly healthcare reimbursement benefit to retired clergy and disabled clergy who are Medicare eligible, and their spouses. This benefit is not guaranteed and is reviewed annually. Clergy are eligible to receive this benefit if, after retiring from the Conference, they have served in the denomination for a minimum of ten years. The stipend is a fixed dollar amount based on eligible active years of services and the maximum monthly healthcare premium stipend.

Management's estimate of the postretirement benefit plan with a measurement date of December 31, 2022 is as follows:

Accumulated postretirement benefit obligation	$ 15,115,578
Actuarial value of plan assets	$ -

The above information was based on participant data as of the census date at January 1, 2022:

Active participants:
Full eligible	9
Other	265
	274
Retirees, dependents and surviving spouses:
Retirees	195
Dependents	125
Surviving spouses	66
	386

Assumptions used in the actuary report consisted of the discount rate of 2.70% and the Pri-2012 Top Quartile Employee Mortality Table (headcount-weighted), with generational projection using Scale MP-2020.

Total contributions to the postemployment healthcare plan were approximately $698,000 and $712,000 for the years ended June 30, 2023 and 2022, respectively.

NOTE 10: RELATED PARTY TRANSACTION

NOTE 12: COMMITMENTS

As of June 30, 2023 and 2022, there is current litigation pending against the Boy Scouts of America (the BSA) and others in various jurisdictions related to lawsuits for abuse that occurred during BSA-related activities. Although the Conference is not believed to have chartered any Boy Scout units, the United Methodist Church has committed to raise $30 million (1% of a $3 billion settlement) for settlements of these cases and contribute to the Survivor Trust Fund. Insurance companies, the BSA and BSA Councils are largely paying the remaining 99%. The $30 million settlement is required to provide release for all United Methodist Churches and organizations from the pending litigation. The Conference's portion of this settlement is $312,144, with the Conference contributing $20,000 for legal support during the year ended June 30, 2022. At June 30, 2022, the remaining $292,144 was recorded as an apportioned and other funds payable on the statements of assets, liabilities and net assets – modified cash basis, and as a survivor trust fund disbursement for the year ended June 30, 2022 on the statements of revenues, expenses and changes in net assets – modified cash basis. The $292,144 was fully paid on May 30, 2023. No other payments are likely to be made.

Effective August 1, 2023, the Conference was awarded and assumed temporary possession of the properties of the First United Methodist Church, Jonesboro, Arkansas (Jonesboro FUMC), as a result of a court order entered in a case styled First United Methodist Church, Jonesboro, Arkansas v. The Arkansas Conference of the United Methodist Church, Inc. et al.; Craighead County, Arkansas, Circuit Court Case No. 16JCV-22-1872 (the Litigation). In the Litigation, the Conference has asserted and seeks a judicial declaration that it is the current owner of the Jonesboro FUMC's properties as a result of a Declaration of Exigent Circumstances issued under a church governance procedure contained in the Discipline of The United Methodist Church. The Litigation has not concluded and the ultimate ownership of the Jonesboro FUMC's properties remains contested and has not been decided by the Court. No trial date has been set in the Litigation.

NOTE 13: SUBSEQUENT EVENTS

On July 11, 2023, the Conference finalized the sale of approximately 22.65 acres of land in Centerton, Arkansas with a net book value of approximately $1,653,000, for $2,250,000.

Management has evaluated subsequent events through April 4, 2024, the date that the financial statements were available to be issued.

Tithe Revenues

The Arkansas Annual Conference prepares its spending plan based on projected revenues of a 10% tithe of the aggregate income of our local congregations as reported on lines 52 and 54 of Table III. This enables local churches to use 90% of their collections for their local church ministries.

52. Total Income for annual spending plan (as of 12/31/2023) $71,531,034.00
54. Total Income from connectional/institutional sources outside the local church $1,119,068.00
Total Revenue $72,650,102.00
10.0% Spending Plan Maximum $7,265,010.00

Spending Plan Overview

The budget, or spending plan, cap for the fiscal year 2024-2025 is $7,265,010 based on 2023 revenue figures. The Arkansas Annual Conference's total spending plan for the 2024-2025 year is $5,993,979? which is 82.5% of the maximum spending plan.

The following priorities have guided the Cabinet and Council on Finance and Administration (CFA) in making strategic stewardship decisions in order to shape the 2024-2025 Arkansas Conference Spending Plan:

1. We will continue to ensure the financial stability of the Arkansas Conference by strictly adhering to the principles and promises of the Arkansas Tithe Initiative.
2. We will craft a conference spending plan that can be adapted to a rapidly changing landscape.
3. We will support districts, district superintendents, district administrators and district strategy teams as the primary means for connection and missional strategy development and implementation.
4. We will empower local congregations through resources, training and programs that enable new and existing congregations to become more vital in making disciples of Jesus Christ, who make disciples equipped and sent to transform lives, communities and the world (e.g., Transition Seminar; cohorts; consultation; workshops; etc.).
5. We will offer ministries that connect together congregations to transform lives, communities and the world (e.g., 200,000 Reasons; disaster response; campus ministry; children and youth, etc.).
6. We will provide services and carry out tasks for which the annual conference is uniquely responsible (e.g., district superintendents and district offices; communication; Culture of Call; Board of Ordained Ministry, Board of Trustees; Board of Pensions; administrative services; Annual Conference Session, etc.).
7. We will make building healthy relationships a priority.

A. Total gross income for previous month including designated giving $_____
B. Less income for capital campaigns
C. Less income for memorials and endowments
D. Less income from sale of church-owned real estate
E. Less income from tuition-based services
F. Less direct costs of fund-raising
G. Less income designated for pass-through/outreach ministries
H. Less Paycheck Protection Program loans
I. Adjusted gross income = Line A minus B,C,D,E,F,G,H
J. Conference Monthly ministry tithe = Line I X 10% = $_____

III. Tithe Instructions

Line A—Total gross income for previous month (including designated giving and all other funds)
Enter the total amount of ALL revenue for the previous month. Total income includes ALL income received by the church (offerings, pledged giving, unpledged giving, donations, building use fees, income from fundraisers, designated giving, interest from investments, capital campaign income, preschool income, bequests, memorials, etc.)

Line B—Exclude income for capital campaigns (this does not include income for lines of credit (LOC) or mortgage payments)
Capital campaign income is money received from campaigns that are defined as significant, short-term fundraising efforts for a stated project, such as a building, debt retirement, or special project. The campaign usually lasts for a short time, generally less than a year; however, the donations to the campaign may span several years. Stated capital campaigns should not be confused with trustee account donations, building maintenance donations or other donations or capital needs. Income for regular monthly LOC or mortgage payment is not capital campaign income.

Line C—Exclude income for memorials and endowments
Gifts received to fund memorials and endowments should be excluded here. Income from endowment earnings should not be excluded.

Line D—Exclude income from sale of church-owned real estate (not used for operating expenses)
Income from the sale of church owned property (such as a parsonage) to be used for future capital expenses should be excluded here.

Line E—Exclude income from tuition-based services (preschool, daycare, etc.)
Tuition-based services income is any payment made to the church for services provided at the church such as preschool, childcare, elder care, or other similar services. Normally such services are budgeted separately, often by a non-profit organization affiliated with the church.

Line F—Exclude direct costs of fund-raising Direct costs of fund-raising are those costs paid to raise funds for the church, but not the income raised. Typical examples include: 1) the discounted purchase price of gift cards for future resale, 2) the cost of food and supplies for a fund-raising dinner and 3) a consulting fee to direct a fund-raising activity.

Line G—Exclude income for pass-through/outreach ministries
Pass-through funds are monies received for projects or events outside the local church. From time to time churches will act as a collection agent for special events, such as disaster relief, community homeless shelters, food pantries, soup kitchens or mission trips. Monies are sometimes given for field missionary support or mission focused activities including materials and supplies for mission trips and mission outposts. Any donations given for outreach ministries or causes should be excluded.

Line H—Exclude funds received from the Paycheck Protection Program loan

IV. District Superintendents

A. Salary will be no more than $118,452 (annually).
B. This figure shall include salary, utilities and appurtenances, and other professional reimbursable expenses.
    1. We recommend that business travel by the District Superintendents (DS) shall be reimbursed at the maximum IRS allowable rate. This will be funded by the DS vouchered travel expense fund of $60,000 for room, board, and travel expense.

    4. The sending DS shall not submit a voucher for moving expenses unless the parsonage is left clean and meets the approval of the Pastor-Parish Relations Committee Chairperson. Should the DS and the chairperson of the S/PRC determine that the parsonage will require cleaning and/or repair due to abuse and/or negligence on the part of the departing pastoral family the DS may direct that the pastor's moving reimbursement be reduced by the amount required for such cleaning/repair and that this amount be paid to the church. In no case shall the amount paid to the church be greater than the total to which the pastor would otherwise be entitled for moving expense reimbursement.
    5. On recommendation from the Cabinet, the CFA may disburse funds for pastors transitioning out of the ministry.
    6. Special circumstances may be considered by the CFA Executive Committee upon recommendation by the Appointive Cabinet.

   1. The Conference Treasurer is charged with the responsibility for managing all Conference Funds. It is the purpose of this investment policy to establish parameters within which the monies of the Conference will be managed.
   2. The objective of the investment of Conference monies is to provide:
      a. Preservation of capital.

Employee Assistance Program:
The Conference Board of Pension and Health Benefits partnered with The Board of Ordained Ministry to bring clergy families the Methodist Healthcare Employee Assistance Program. Since January 1, 2012, this program has provided free, confidential short-term counseling to all active, retired clergy and clergy households. The Board of Pension and Health Benefits recommends continuing the program with 10 visits for 2024-2025 fiscal year. The benefit is not guaranteed and will be reviewed annually. The costs for the program will be paid with Insurance Reserves for 2024-2025. We are pleased to offer this service to our clergy and their households. EAP can help with many of life's challenges such as family issues, marital concerns, alcohol and drug abuse, anxiety, depression, major life events, grief, work concerns and managing the stress of everyday life. The program offers 10 counseling sessions to you and members of your household, free of charge. In most cases, short-term counseling is all the help you'll need. However, if a referral outside the EAP is necessary, the EAP counselor will seek the best resources for your situation. Counseling outside the EAP will require use of insurance or self-pay. Use of the EAP and issues discussed in all sessions are held in strict confidence. Rest assured that your private health information remains confidential and can only be released outside the EAP with your written consent or when required by law such as in life threatening situations or child/elder abuse. All Arkansas Conference staff members and clergy families; whether full time, part time, retired or disabled as well as members of your household are eligible to participate. Surviving spouses are also eligible for this benefit. For more information about the Methodist Healthcare EAP, please visit their website at www.methodisteapcanhelp.org and review the brochure enclosed in this announcement. To access the program, simply call their toll-free number 1-800-880-5658 to schedule an appointment.

Clergy Retirement Plans:
The Pre-1982 Pension Plan was replaced by the Ministerial Pension Plan effective January 1, 1982. Vested participants and their spouses receive lifetime benefits from the pre-82 plan. The 2024 monthly Past Service Rate (pre-1982) known as the PSR is $577.00.
The 2004 General Conference voted to end the MPP as of December 31, 2006. The replacement pension plan was the Clergy Retirement Security Program (CRSP) which began January 1, 2007. Less than full-time clergy are ineligible effective 1/1/2013. The plan is made up of 2 components;

1. A Defined Benefit which provides monthly income at retirement based upon years of credited service to the Church and a surviving spouse benefit payment of 75% for her/his lifetime. Clergy may also designate a disabled child as a secondary contingent annuitant. After the death of you and your spouse, your disabled child will receive a reduced benefit. As with spousal coverage, your initial benefits will be reduced to pay for this extra benefit, and
2. A Defined Contribution that provides a retirement account balance which was established and funded by the annual conference.

All eligible full-time clergy who are under Episcopal appointment in the conference shall enroll in the Clergy Retirement Security Program (CRSP). Full-time clergy may make written requests to waive out of the pension program CRSP. Effective January 1, 2014 clergy serving less than full-time are not eligible to participate in CRSP. We encourage the churches they serve to provide a retirement benefit by making contributions to the United Methodist Personal Pension Plan (UMPIP) on their behalf. Pension Plan enrollment is the responsibility of the participant and must be done no later than 30 days from the eligibility date. Information for enrollment must be provided to the Conference Benefits Officer, Mona Williams, at the Conference Office of Finance and Administration.

- Clergy pension is calculated on "Plan" compensation. Plan compensation as defined by Wespath includes a parsonage equivalent (25% of compensation) or housing allowance. The benefit multiplier for 2023/2024 is 14% and is broken down in the following manner;
- The monthly CRSP- DB benefit is 8% of eligible Plan compensation.
- The CRSP-DC benefit is 2% non-matching employer contribution and 1% matching of employee eligible Plan compensation.
- The premium for the Comprehensive Protection Death and Disability Plan is 3% of eligible Plan compensation up to 200% of the Denominational average compensation "DAC" for clergy appointed full-time.
- Participants must contribute a minimum of 1% of eligible Plan compensation to their Personal Investment Plan (UMPIP) in order to receive the full employer CRSP-DC contribution.

2024-2025 Retiree Healthcare Premium Stipend Allocation:
The Arkansas Conference provides a monthly healthcare reimbursement benefit to eligible retired clergy members of the Conference and disabled clergy who are Medicare eligible. The benefit is not guaranteed and is reviewed annually. In order to be eligible for a conference healthcare premium reimbursement Provisional Elders, Associate Members, Elders in Full Connection and Full-time Local Pastors who remain members of the Arkansas Conference must have served full-time in the denomination for a minimum of 10 years. Only full-time appointment years are eligible and must have been served under Episcopal Appointment in the Arkansas Conference. Retirees not currently receiving a conference healthcare premium stipend are not eligible to receive the stipend. The stipend is a fixed dollar amount based on eligible years of active service and the maximum healthcare premium stipend. Additional years of service above 40 have no effect on the healthcare premium stipend.

- The maximum monthly healthcare stipend for the 2024-2025 fiscal year is $207.06 for clergy and $155.30 for a spouse.
- Clergy who work or serve an appointment after retirement will not receive additional years of service or an additional benefit of any kind. The base HRA benefit calculation guide •
- The first ten years of service will accrue at 2% of the maximum premium gift:
    - Clergy: 2% of $200 = $4.00
    - Spouse: 2% of $150 = $ $3.00
- The next 20 years of service will accrue at:
    - Clergy: 3.5% of $200 = $7.00
    - Spouse: 3.5% of $150 = $5.25
- The remaining ten years of service will accrue at:
    - Clergy: 1% of $200 = $2.00
    - Spouse: 1% of $150 = $1.50

Conference responsible appointment years of active service are defined as service in which the Arkansas Conference or local church is responsible for contributions to clergy pension plans; Pre-1982, MPP or CRSP. The minimum healthcare stipend benefit is $51.77 per month. Clergy who are married at the time of retirement will receive a supplemental spousal gift. The spouse at retirement who outlives the clergy person will receive a stipend as a surviving spouse. If a retired clergy couple divorces, the clergy will receive the clergy benefit and that spouse will receive the spouse portion. Should the clergy remarry, the new spouse is not eligible for a stipend. A surviving spouse who remarries will continue to receive a healthcare stipend benefit. When a clergy dies while under an active conference responsible appointment leaving behind a spouse (who is not eligible for Medicare) the conference will provide a healthcare premium stipend for $1035.30 per month for the first 5 years. After the earlier of year 5, or Medicare eligibility, the healthcare premium stipend will be based on clergy years of eligible service.

Clergy on Medical Leave receiving CPP Disability Benefits: Approved Medical Leave is an active Conference responsible appointment. Clergy appointed to Medical Leave who are not yet eligible for Medicare will receive a taxable Healthcare Premium Stipend in the amount of $1035.30 per month. Those who are eligible for Medicare must enroll in Medicare B, purchase a Medicare Supplement and a Drug Plan. Having met these guidelines, you would be eligible to receive a Healthcare Premium Stipend using the years of service guidelines above through the non-taxable HRA.

Other Important Information:

1. Surviving spouses eligible for spousal pension benefits will receive benefits at 75% of the formula benefit rate for pre-1982 service.
2. Allowance grants and local expenses of the Conference Board of Pension and Health Benefits are paid by Wespath or the Conference Treasurer must meet 2016 Book of Discipline guidelines and are subject to the approval by the Arkansas Conference. There are no grants at this time.
3. The institution, board or organization paying the salary of a minister on special appointment without annuity claim on the conference shall make provision for the pension of such person.
4. Attention is called to ¶1506.5 in the 2016 Book of Discipline, regarding eligibility to participate in CRSP and Comprehensive Protection Plan (CPP). In order to provide adequately for the active pension program (current and past funding), death & disability benefits, retiree healthcare support and well care in 2024-2025 the conference has budgeted from the conference tithe $585,065. That total is broken down as:

- Healthcare premium stipends for disabled clergy on approved medical leave shall be $18,750.
- Healthcare premium stipends for retirees & spouses shall be $462,500.
- To provide for clergy under special conference responsible appointments shall be $21,315.
- Administration $82,500.

5. We remind all pastors and local churches of ¶639.4 in the 2016 Book of Discipline, which sets forth the requirement that payments on the pension and benefit program of the conference be in exact proportion to payments made on the salary or salaries, including housing of the ordained minister or clergy serving it. ¶638.4d requires the local church treasurer and/or pastor to adjust the cash salary and payment to be in the same proportion as the amount paid to the pension and benefit program of the conference. ¶639.4d adds that it shall not be permissible for a pastor to receive a bonus or other supplementary compensation tending to defeat proportional payment.
6. ¶639.4 of the 2016 Book of Discipline requires the Conference Board to keep a permanent record of defaults by churches of the conference in paying clergy pension and benefits. The board is further required to render annually to each church that is in default a statement of the amounts in default for that and preceding years. The Conference default total was $46,091.39. According to our Conference Treasurer, for 2023 the following churches were in default by greater than $500 on the direct billed Clergy Retirement Security Program & the CPP premiums by the following amounts:

8. In determining years of service, the Board of Pension and Health Benefits shall carefully examine and consider those years listed in the conference Journal prior to accepting them as valid years; and any years in question shall be subject to validation by the applicant and by approval of the Board of Pensions. We recommend that approval of pension credit outlined in ¶1506.2-5 of the 2016 Book of Discipline, be enforced.
9. Copies of individual service records are held at Wespath, 1901 Chestnut Ave, Glenview, IL 60025-1604.
10. A Retired Minister's Day is recommended to be the Third Sunday of May each year. The purpose of this day is to recognize the service of the retired servants and their families, and to involve the local churches in the recognition of the needs, both present and future.
    a. If a retired minister does not reside within the bounds of a charge, but a member of a retired minister's family does, they shall be invited to participate in the service (or observance); otherwise, recognition of these servants, and their service, should be observed appropriately. "Appropriately" should be determined by the Pastor/Parish Relations Committee of each local church. This committee shall have the responsibility of locating these people and relate the service of these persons to the local church and our Annual Conference. The Conference Board of Pension and Health Benefits will be responsible for providing promotional ideas and some materials (i.e., total years of service, percentage of retired ministers serving churches while in their retired status, etc.) when requested.

2024-2025 Housing Allowances for the Arkansas Conference
The Arkansas Conference (the "Conference") adopts the following resolutions relating to rental/housing allowances for active, retired, terminated, or disabled clergypersons of the Conference:

WHEREAS, the religious denomination known as The United Methodist Church (the "Church"), of which this Conference is a part, has in the past functioned and continues to function through ministers of the gospel (within the meaning of Internal Revenue Code section 107) who were or are duly ordained, commissioned, or licensed ministers of the Church ("Clergypersons");

WHEREAS, the practice of the Church and of this Conference was and is to provide active Clergypersons with a parsonage or a rental/housing allowance as part of their gross compensation;

WHEREAS, pensions or other amounts paid to active, retired, terminated, and disabled Clergypersons are considered to be deferred compensation and are paid to active, retired, terminated, and disabled Clergypersons in consideration of previous active service; and

WHEREAS, the Internal Revenue Service has recognized the Conference (or its predecessors) as an appropriate organization to designate a rental/housing allowance for Clergypersons who are or were members of this Conference and are eligible to receive such deferred compensation;

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED:

THAT an amount equal to 100% of the pension, severance, or disability payments received from plans authorized under The Book of Discipline of The United Methodist Church (the "Discipline"), which includes all such payments from Wespath during the period 1/1/2021-12/31/2021 and 1/1/2022-12/31/2022, by each active, retired, terminated, or clergyperson receiving disability benefits who is or was a member of the Conference, or its predecessors, be and hereby is designated as a rental/housing allowance for each such Clergyperson; and

THAT the pension, severance, or disability payments to which this rental/housing allowance designation applies will be any pension, severance, or disability payments from plans, annuities, or funds authorized under the Discipline, including such payments from Wespath and from a commercial annuity company that provides an annuity arising from benefits accrued under a Wespath plan, annuity, or fund authorized under the Discipline, that result from any service a Clergyperson rendered to this Conference or that an active, a retired, a terminated, or a disabled Clergyperson of this Conference rendered to any local church, annual conference of the Church, general agency of the Church, other institution of the Church, former denomination that is now a part of the Church, or any other employer that employed the Clergyperson to perform services related to the ministry of the Church, or its predecessors, and that elected to make contributions to, or accrue a benefit under, such a plan, annuity, or fund for such an active, a retired, a terminated, or a disabled Clergyperson's pension, severance, or disability plan benefit as part of his or her gross compensation.

NOTE: The rental/housing allowance that may be excluded from a Clergyperson's gross income in any year for federal (and, in most cases, state) income tax purposes is limited under Internal Revenue Code section 107(2), and regulations thereunder, to the least of: (a) the amount of the rental/housing allowance designated by the Clergyperson's employer or other appropriate body of the Church (such as this Conference in the foregoing resolutions) for such year; (b) the amount actually expended by the Clergyperson to rent or provide a home in such year; or (c) the fair rental value of the home, including furnishings and appurtenances (such as a garage), plus the cost of utilities in such year. Each clergyperson or former clergyperson is urged to consult with his or her tax advisor to determine what deferred compensation is eligible to be claimed as housing allowance exclusion. A housing exclusion calculation worksheet may be requested from the Conference Benefits Office.

The 2025 Funding Plan is in process. When approved by Wespath it will be available on the ARUMC website.

200,000 More Reasons to Fight Childhood Hunger

Mission: 100% of Arkansas United Methodist churches will participate in an initiative to significantly reduce childhood hunger through feeding ministries, public witness, and education for long-term stability.

As 200,000 More Reasons, we invite local congregations to do more for hungry children and families around strategies that provide stability and long-term solutions. We encourage ministries around access to food, childhood literacy and that promote a healthy, stable family life. Local church ministries provide access to food now; greater learning potential for the child in the future; and, opportunities for living without food insecurity for the next generation.

Grants totaling $75,150 were shared in Fall 2023 and Spring 2024 with forty-seven churches around the state to support ministries related to each of our objectives: Nutrition, Literacy, and Stability at home. Grant cycles occur in the first and third quarter of each calendar year.

Nutrition: While Arkansas ranks number one in the nation for food insecurity, the number of children living with food insecurity has decreased from 139,000 in 2020 to approximately 135,000 in 2022. 81% of local UMC congregations and organizations reported in 2023 offering or supporting a local ministry that feeds food insecure children and their families. These include blessing boxes, food pantries, mobile food distributions, backpacks of food, out-of-school meals, and congregational support of local and regional food distributions. Our goal is to have 100% of our churches doing something.

Approximately half of SNAP recipients in Arkansas are families with children. 200,000 More Reasons has partnered with the Arkansas Hunger Relief Alliance and Northwest Arkansas Food Bank to offer SNAP training programs to feeding ministries across the state.

Literacy: Only 32% of Arkansas third graders read proficiently according to 2023 school year data from ACT Aspire assessment. Research indicates that the transition from third to fourth grade marks a shift from learning to read to reading to learn. Almost all readers who were proficient in the third grade (96%) graduated from high school. This new data highlights the importance of the work our churches are doing.

200,000 More Reasons hosted a zoom training for those in the Northwest District who wanted to start or expand their literacy ministry. This training inspired churches in Northwest Arkansas and the River Valley to create year-long ministries in partnership with local schools.

Our goal is to have 50% of United Methodist Churches and organizations with ministries that increase access to books, offer in-school reading tutors or out-of-school reading programs. This year, 44% started, expanded, or continued their ministries of little free libraries, reading camps, after-school programs, tutoring ministries or distributed books to children.

Stability at home: In 2021, 22% of Arkansas' children experienced two or more ACEs – Adverse Childhood Experiences. These are traumatizing events such as divorce, living with someone who misuses substances or has mental illness, witnessing violence, or having a parent in jail or to die. Children in poverty are at higher risk for more ACEs.

For a state that ranks in the top 10 for most ACEs per person and low access to mental health, the ARUMC can do more to help children in poverty and the adults who care for them. Offering positive experiences through ministries and access to mental health will counterbalance the adverse impact some food insecure children endure. 200K More Reasons encourages local congregations to promote healthy, stable families by 1) increasing awareness of mental health issues and the need for access to affordable and acceptable care; 2) opening church doors to community-wide support, training and learning; and, 3) creating topic-driven small groups for under-resourced families. 22% of ARUMC's reported in 2022 ministries that promote a stable family life, mostly around addiction care and crisis support. Our goal is to have 35% offering these ministries to food insecure families.

Training on ACEs and trauma-informed ministry is available to all clergy, youth and children's ministers as well as lay volunteers in outreach ministries to the poor on September 9th, 2023.

Additionally, 71 clergy and lay people have been trained in Mental Health First Aid for Adults. These 8 hour trainings led by Amy Shores teach how to identify and respond responsibly to mental health needs of those with whom our churches connect, including in outreach ministries to the poor.

2022 Ingathering and the related service event were hosted in November. Districts worked to gather UMCOR disaster relief supplies. The Conference celebrated with a service event at the AR Food Bank with 84 volunteers and 12 staff from around the state and of all ages who bagged approximately 5,100 pounds (or 1,020 bags) of sweet potatoes; 192 TEFAP Food Boxes; and 1,440 Dental Kits to be distributed through the Food Bank. All the districts collected $40,386 in financial and in-kind gifts related to UMCOR kits, AR disaster Response and 200K More Reasons. 8,689 pounds of food were donated locally in districts, and an additional 373 volunteers contributed 521 volunteer hours.

All of Arkansas' United Methodist Churches are vital to their community. 200,000 More Reasons supports those churches and ministries that reach out beyond the pews to some of the most vulnerable—children in food-insecure, under-resourced households. We celebrate what you are doing as local congregations and as disciples of Christ. Contact us at 200Kmorereasons@arumc.org if your church needs ideas or support in getting started in any of these ministry areas.

Arkansas Conference Council on Youth Ministries (ACCYM)

The Arkansas Conference Council on Youth Ministries (ACCYM) has had a successful year of being inclusive and encouraging towards youth in the state while allowing them to create significant relationships with others and a deeper connection to Christ. We believe in providing a safe place at each gathering for youth to strengthen their faith in Christ by leading, fellowship, and serving. When planning events, our main intention is to plan an event for "the one." We hope to plan an event that reaches each attendee in a meaningful way.

This year, we wanted to be intentional about providing that space, so at each event, we added a "Sensory Room." This is a less stimulating environment for students. These rooms had many fidget toys, comfortable seating and carpets, textured items, a sound machine, and various other sensory items.

The media task force has continued to advertise our events throughout the year. This task force, comprised of youth from across Arkansas, has played a great help in our ministry to the state. They post updates on our social media platforms for upcoming events and highlights from previous ones. It would be difficult to advertise the incredible things going on in this conference without them, their talents, and their willingness to serve.

The Youth Service Fund, or YSF, is a mission fund exclusively of United Methodist Youth. YSF is money raised by youth spent by youth to benefit youth. YSF gave out $4,000 in grants to Asbury FUMC, Farmington UMC, and Faith UMC of Fort Smith this year. These grants went towards the group's specific needs, including updating youth spaces and attending mission trips.

In July 2023, Junior and Senior High Assembly was held at Hendrix College. The theme of this event was “Connections,” with an emphasis on Romans 12:4-5. The event’s focus was for youth and adults to discuss how they see Christ in the broader world, their local community, and themselves. Still coming out of COVID, the task force felt it was important for students to see the power of connection in the UMC as well as others across the state.

In November 2023, our fall event called Refuge took place. This event was held for junior high youth in 6th - 9th grades at Shepherd of the Ozarks in Harriet. The theme this year was “Foundation”. The task force knew this event was typically a student's first conference event, so Refuge was a great way to help build on their “foundation” by helping establish and further their relationship with God, other youth, and ACCYM. Rather than the event taking place twice over two separate weekends, like years past, this year was the first time since pre-COVID that this event was held in a single weekend to allow a greater opportunity for more youth groups to connect.

ACCYM’s biggest event, Veritas, was relocated to the Fort Smith Convention Center this year. This year’s theme was “Under Pressure,” with the hope of acknowledging the pressures and temptations that everyone faces in life and how youth and adults can continue to push through it and not be overcome by it. Our very own Bishop Merrill participated in the event by leading one of the 20 workshops and the communion service during the final worship on Sunday morning. Veritas had a very successful year, and the Holy Spirit was definitely present among the speakers, talent, and youth.

Our upcoming event will be Junior and Senior High Assembly, held July 22-26, 2024. The theme for this event will be “Growth.” At this event, youth will go through a small group curriculum that focuses on how to look deeper into their faith and how that can help them grow in all aspects of life.

Overall, this has been an incredible year for CCYM as we have continued to provide a safe environment for all to come together, connect, and build relationships with others and Christ. Moving forward, ACCYM will continue to lead with love and create disciples of Jesus Christ for the transformation of the world.

Board of Church and Society

The Arkansas Board of Church and Society met via sessions on Zoom and continued to discuss ways to help churches of the Arkansas Conference connect with educational resources to understand the General Board of Church and Society's Five Priorities (Poverty, Climate, Health, Peace, Civil and Human Rights), as well as the Social Principles.

Church and Society specifically chose to focus attention on climate since this affects all people everywhere. We live in Arkansas, a state known for its natural beauty, resources, and agricultural economy.

Therefore, we made sponsoring a Green Team Breakfast for Annual Conference a priority so that we can broaden and expand the conversation to include others. The Board of Global Ministries, The United Women in Faith, and Earth Keepers like GBGM SCJ missionary Elizabeth McCormick and Rev. Angie Gage offered ideas, resources, and wisdom about the breakfast event.

We invited Rev. Mark Brechin, Earth Keeper, Rio Conference, to offer a presentation on earth care that is inclusive of Arkansas' very different contexts, from agricultural to accessing clean water, as well as encouraging congregations to be mindful of how we steward our own UMC properties and lands.

In addition, the Green Team Breakfast will take time to highlight the Revised Social Principles and the Church and Society booth will have QR codes to link persons with information to be used in their local congregations.

To assist with further education, there is an Arkansas C&S Facebook Page and a connecting page on the arumc.org website to the GBCS page. This helps share national legislative alerts and educational webinars on a variety of topics, and we encourage Arkansas United Methodists to access these resources.

At the end of our 2023 Annual Conference, we ran out of the General Board of Church and Society's Faith and Fact cards, located at C&S booth. Clearly, United Methodists in Arkansas want to know what The UMC social justice positions are and why.

Finally, we recognize that our 2024 Annual Conference begins on Juneteenth and remind all United Methodists to remember our Church's commitment to civil and human rights and eradicating racism.

Our wide-ranging commitment involves delivering Humanitarian Relief and Recovery through the United Methodist Committee on Relief and the dedicated Arkansas Disaster Response team. Moreover, BGM fosters connections with over 200 Missionaries stationed around the world, spreads the uplifting message of God's love through Evangelism and Church Revitalization initiatives, and prioritizes Global Health. Through global missions, we strive to promote physical, emotional, and spiritual well-being for all of God's children.

In an effort to reinvigorate our commitment to the Board of Global Ministries' comprehensive mission, we introduced the 5 Star Church Award in 2023. During the Annual Conference, we will proudly present certificates to Arkansas UMC congregations who meet the following criteria: pay 100% of the Arkansas Tithe Initiative, contribute to UMCOR Sunday, and actively engage in the following five mission categories:

1) One UMCOR Project
2) One national Advance project outside the South Central Jurisdiction
3) One international Advance project
4) Attendance at Mission U or participation in Ingathering
5) Support for a Global Ministries missionary

The Board of Global Ministries of the Arkansas Conference proudly partners with Global Missionaries David McCormick, Elizabeth McCormick, and Trisha Manns in pursuing shared mission objectives. We are particularly excited about the invaluable contributions Trisha Manns is making in her role as Church and Community Worker, developing ministries for youth and young adults with historically-Black congregations. We also celebrate the ways our EarthKeepers, Elizabeth McCormick and Rev. Angie Gage, are challenging and encouraging our annual conference to be more diligent in pursuing creation care and justice. We are thrilled to partner with them, the Board of Church and Society, the United Women in Faith, and others for a Green Team Breakfast at Annual Conference. We also celebrate ongoing partnerships with United Women in Faith and the Methodist Foundation for Arkansas as co-sponsors for Mission U. Our Mission Personnel Coordinator, Brenda Norwood Hinson, has meticulously compiled a list of United Methodist missionary personnel either originating from Arkansas or with strong ties to our state (please refer to the attached document).

A new dawn has risen upon the United Methodist Church - an era where all of God's children are embraced with open arms, and each individual's unique gifts are honored and celebrated. As we unite in mission and ministry, both within Arkansas and beyond its borders, we eagerly anticipate that God has even greater blessings in store for all of God's beloved children.

Board of Higher Education and Campus Ministry

This has been a busy and important year for the Conference Board of Higher Education and Campus Ministry. In October 2023 chairperson Nathan Kilbourne resigned from the Board. Roy Smith, who had previously chaired the Board from 2011-2021 was asked to return as chair in an interim role. My report on behalf of the Board will primarily begin from the time I began leading the Board again. I am grateful for Nathan's leadership. He led the Board through a difficult time of budget reductions by the Conference and the uneasiness caused by disaffiliation.

Higher Education as well as our United Methodist Campus Ministries continue to recover and discover what life and ministry on the campus is like following the disruptions of the last four years due to the Covid pandemic and shutdowns. I am pleased that there is strong, meaningful, and effective ministry happening with students across the state. I am grateful for the dedicated campus minsters who lead our ministries and for the Boards of Directors for each of our Wesley Foundations. Your campus ministries are extensions of your local church on campuses. We rely on you as leaders and members of local churches to help our campus ministers and ministries to connect with students from your church. Please help us by sharing names and contact information on the Conference website www.arumc.org (Go to arumc.org and click on the "Ministries and Initiatives" line, then click on "Campus Ministries". You will see there is a button for "Sharing Your Information" or "Refer a Student". Also the campus ministers names and contacts information are listed there.). We want to be in ministry with students as they come to campuses across the state, and you can help us to connect with them.

This year we have worked to collaborate as campus ministries and campus ministers. In January the Respite Campus Ministry Retreat was held at Mount Eagle. Approximately 50 students and their campus ministers gathered with students from 8 different campuses. Campus Ministers are also involved in Conference youth events like Refuge, Veritas, and Youth Assembly. This has been a great way to connect with students before they arrive at college. In February several campus minsters shared in a suicide prevention training program.

I want to thank the United Methodist Campus Minsters serving as leaders of your campus ministries:

Arkansas State University	Dennis Elzey
Arkansas Tech University	John Palmer
Henderson State University/Ouachita Baptist University	Russ Breshears
Southern Arkansas University	Tim Rushing
University of Arkansas	Virginia Brown
University of Arkansas Monticello	Kavan Dodson
University of Arkansas Pine Bluff	Danita Waller-Paige
University of Central Arkansas	Amy Shores
Hendrix College	Ellen Alston
Philander Smith University	Ronnie Miller-Yow

As you may be aware the Wesley Foundation at UALR is in a pause as we discern a new model for ministry on that campus. The UALR Wesley Foundation Board is continuing to meet and work on a viable model of ministry. The building was sold in March 2024, and the proceeds from that sale will be used to begin a new ministry there.

I began leading the Board in October, and we began that time with a meeting of the entire BHECM board. Following that meeting I visited with each of the campus minsters one on one. After that I visited with them as a group as well as members of our Board itself and in a separate meeting with the Presidents of the Wesley Foundation Boards.

Out of these conversations these five critical areas for the focus on the work of the Board have emerged.

1. We need to explore the model of ministry on each campus and evaluate the "fit" at this time and as we look at the next few years of ministry there.
2. We will continue to monitor and evaluate the effect of the disaffiliation of churches which have formerly supported a campus ministry in their area.
3. We will continue to develop and implement meaningful and useful measuring tools to gauge the outcome of campus ministries. This will involve a mix of numerical tools and narrative tools.
4. We will continue to build and strengthen connections with churches in the area of the campus and alumni of the campus ministries themselves.
5. We will seek to discover how best to live in an era of declining Conference resources without falling into the trap of a scarcity mindset, which limits what God is seeking to be doing in the lives of students on our campuses in Arkansas.

We are grateful for the support of the Conference and we ask for your prayers for our ministries.
Respectfully submitted,

Roy Smith
Chairperson

Church and Community Worker (CCW)

Greetings ARUMC Family!
The Central District Youth and Young Adult Coordinator position was initially conceived in 2017 as a result of a collaboration between the Arkansas Conference Board of Global Ministries and the Arkansas Caucus of Black Methodists for Church Renewal. This Church and Community Worker site was not funded until 2022 when a match of gifts and graces and community needs was found. Following an intensive interview with the Church and Community Worker and two trainings with the Partner Churches, Trisha Manns was placed in Arkansas in December 2022. The Youth and Young Adult Coordinator was designed as a pilot program in the Central District which could be expanded over the six-year period of the ARUMC commitment to other districts and additional congregations.

Beginning in 2023, we had the opportunity to engage with multiple communities in the Arkansas Conference; especially, with the communities of the initial five partner churches. We have worked closer with each other collaborating on events like the Safe Gathering Training and the Black Methodists for Church Renewal (ARBMCR) Fall Festival. Some of the positives from this year include the CCW volunteering with the White Memorial UMC Snack Program and developing relationships with the families in the South End Community. The CCW was strategic in planning and supporting two community events with Hunter UMC in the John Barrow community. Trisha has worked with Hoover UMC to serve their college students and supported their new collegiate care initiative. The CCW has been integral in working with St. Paul Maumelle and Marks Chapel in assisting them to identify programmatic needs in the congregations working with pastors and laity. She has worked with Mission u, SMU Perkins at the Methodist Foundation, ACCYM Youth Assembly at Hendrix College, and more. Within the first year of this position Trisha attended seven conferences both in person and on zoom and supported or participated in over 15 events with churches in this partnership. We are thankful for the support of the conference.

At the end of the first quarter of 2024, the initiative expanded by adding two churches, Haven UMC in Hot Springs and St. James UMC in Pine Bluff. Additionally, we have agreed to partner with Walmart and Global Ministries for a nationwide Community Health Wellness Day in September. We are excited to continue working with and providing opportunities for youth and young adults to have stronger connections and stronger faith. Finally, where we have identified areas to grow and increase outreach events for more opportunities for youth and young adults to engage with their faith. Intentional invitational follow-ups when neighbors worship with us so that they areinspired to become active in the life of our churches is a component that Trisha is working on with several of the congregations. The Church and Community Worker Program has helped all of the partner churches to reach goals unique to their context with youth and young adults. We praise God for the fruit that this missional tree is bearing!

Trisha Manns, Central District Parish Youth and Young Adult Coordinator

The Arkansas Conference Commission on Archives and History announces some changes for the upcoming year:

1. One of our Archivist's retired in March, 2024. We grateful for Carole Teague's service as Arkansas Conference Archivist that began on January 1, 2017. For over seven years, Carole served the Arkansas Conference, cheerfully and graciously doing research for anyone who called asking about the ministry service of someone who served as clergy of the Conference, asking for general information about the history of the Conference, compiling a memoir of a clergy person or spouse, and she was instrumental in digitizing all the "Arkansas United Methodist Newspapers" the earliest from June 28, 1884 until the newspaper was no longer printed, August 13, 2018. Printed copies are available for viewing at our conference website, the Archives, and using the Hendrix College Library microfilm database. We will go forward with one paid Archivist.

2. Our Conference Museum Curator will no longer be a paid position. We celebrate the service of Shakeelah Rahmaan as Arkansas Conference Curator for the past six years. She has been instrumental in increasing the museum's on-line presence as was seen both on our Facebook (Meta) account (Arkansas United Methodist Museum) and on our Instagram account (UnitedMethdist_Museum. She put together the museum's first "Traveling Exhibition Project" and planning for the next two TEV's. She began digitizing the Museum artifacts.

The following are reports from the Archives and the Museum:

2023 Archives Ministry Report

The Archives is the ongoing collection of paper documents and digital documentation of the Arkansas Conference. The archivists work to make this collection available to future generations by the preservation of materials on archivable paper, copying in digitized format, and storing in a temperature and humidity-controlled environment. The Archives also promotes and cares for the historical interests of our local churches, providing training and research where and when possible.

UMC Arkansas Conference Disaffiliations The Archives has reorganized their filing system and have created a designated physical space for the disaffiliating churches Archivable history. We will also digitize each church's information. We hope to have, as a minimum, archived information from each church: Date of Closing, Date of Founding, History, Church Organizers, Membership Records, Photos of Church, and Copy of Deed.

GCAH – Virtual Circuit Rider Project The General Commission Archives and History has proposed a plan that will create a centralized digital repository for all of the Annual Conferences (In the United States for now) archives (potential to digitize other documents and recordings from each Annual Conference as well) and allow access to anyone on a website that will be maintained by the General Conference. A pilot project is currently in progress for five Annual Conferences. The GCAH is exploring grant opportunities to secure funding for this project.

The United Methodist Museum of Arkansas Ministry Report:

The UMMA stands as a beacon of cultural and historical preservation within the Arkansas United Methodist Community. Housed at First United Methodist Church in Little Rock, the museum works to preserve and display donated artifacts representing our United Methodist History in an effort to teach future generations about the rich tradition of United Methodists in Arkansas. In 2023, the museum witnessed significant developments, from enriching exhibits to expanding outreach programs.

Traveling Exhibit: One of the highlights of 2023 was the successful opening of the first Traveling Exhibition Project (TEP). It is a pivotal initiative aimed at broadening the museum's outreach to the local church. Generously funded by a grant from the Methodist Foundation for Arkansas, the TEP facilitated collaborations with three locations in the Arkansas Conference. The first TEP is displayed at the Methodist Foundation for Arkansas, the second and third will be at the First United Methodist Churches of Hot Springs and Jonesboro. The TEP not only bolstered engagement but also underscored the museum's commitment to accessibility and inclusivity. You can join us on August 11 at First United Methodist Church in Jonesboro when we have our last TEP reception.

David Mann Photography Exhibit: Amidst the bustling year, the David Mann Photography Exhibit emerged as a testament to the museum's dedication to showcasing artistry intertwined with religious narratives. Mann's compelling portrayal of ecclesiastical history captivated visitors and deepened their appreciation for the Methodist tradition. The exhibit served as a cornerstone in bridging the gap between art and spirituality, inviting patrons to explore the rich tapestry of Methodist heritage through a unique lens.

Confirmation Day with the Bishop - Again: Working with the Conference Office, the museum helped revive "Confirmation Day with the Bishop". Over 60 confirmands from around the state attended this event and were able to tour the museum and learn about our rich history as a Conference.

Oral History Project: The Oral History Project at the United Methodist Museum of Arkansas has conducted in-depth interviews with 12 esteemed faith leaders within our Conference, capturing their invaluable insights and experiences. Through this project, their voices and narratives contribute to a rich tapestry of Methodist heritage, preserving their wisdom for future generations to cherish and learn from. You can find these interviews on our YouTube page, youtube.com/@ARMethodistMuseum Gallery Assistant Program and Social Media Engagement: The museum's Gallery Assistant Program thrived in 2023, with 4 dedicated individuals contributing to the museum's day-to-day operations and visitor experience. Furthermore, robust social media engagement, exemplified by increased Facebook group membership and Instagram followers, facilitated meaningful connections with virtual audiences. Through bi-monthly newsletters and captivating online content, the museum amplified its presence and fostered a sense of community among Methodist enthusiasts.

Plans for 2024: Looking ahead to 2024, the museum remains committed to its mission of preservation, education, and community engagement. Key objectives include expanding exhibition offerings, continuing the Oral History Project, building new connections, and expanding our team. The Traveling Exhibition Project will also continue to be a focal point, with quarterly goals set to maximize its impact and reach. If you are interested in joining the Museum Board, please let us know by emailing ummac.lr@gmail.com and following us on social media.

Committee on Episcopacy

This summer we celebrate a year and a half of Bishop Merrill's leadership in the Arkansas Conference, and the Arkansas Conference Committee on Episcopacy is grateful for her leadership.

In her time with us, Bishop Merrill has traveled the state participating in worship services with our local churches, attending youth events, confirmations, and sharing in all aspects of the life of the church here in the Arkansas Conference.

We thank her for the grace and compassion in which she led us through the painful disaffiliation season, and we are appreciative for her vision and the regular communication she shares through videos, written messages and social media.

Those who serve on the Committee on Episcopacy agree to:

- support Bishop Merrill in her work,
- be available to her for counsel,
- assist in determining the episcopal needs of the area, and keep the bishop advised of conditions within the area as they affect relationships, and
- engage in annual consultation with the bishop.

We are honored to work with her and express our deep appreciation for her work. Thank you, Bishop, for your service in the Arkansas Annual Conference.

Respectfully Submitted,

Karon Mann, Chair
Arkansas Conference Committee on Episcopacy

Committee on Religion and Race

CORR Committee on Religion and Race is the committee at the Arkansas Conference level which immolates GCORR—The General Commission on Race and Religion for the UMC. The committee meets as needed and work to continue dismantling racism in our conference and in our world.

The members are: Brenda Gullett, Chair; Rev Mark Norman; Rev Larry Hatley; Rev Ulysses Washington; Rev Chester Jones; Rev John Michael; Chelsea Hodge; Bettye L Johnson; ad hoc Rev Rashim Merriwether.

This year we focused on the needs of individuals in the AR Conference who serve in Cross Racial/ Cross Cultural appointments. This can be a very challenging assignment. The committee's desire was to support these individuals. The following conference was made possible by GCORR.

The Facing the Future 2023 conference, held from November 14-16, 2023, in Atlanta, Georgia, united over 250 clergy members serving in cross-racial, cross-cultural (CRCC), and multi-cultural ministries from across the United States. Themed "Be3: Being, Belonging, and Becoming," this event made a profound impact by fostering an atmosphere of affirmation and equipping clergy with practical tools for their CRCC ministry journeys.

CORR was able to secure funds to send clergy to both the in-person meeting and the virtual presentation. In exchange for this opportunity, we have requested that those who experienced this plan a workshop and time of sharing for those who were not able to attend.

Respectfully submitted,
Brenda Gullett, Chair CORR, AR Conference UMC

Conference Secretary of Global Ministries

Collaborating with other United Methodist agencies, as well as world Methodist and ecumenical bodies, Global Ministries facilitates mission with 198 missionaries in more than 67 countries. Global Ministries includes the United Methodist Committee on Relief, or UMCOR, providing nonsectarian disaster response and sustainable development worldwide. Global Ministries is also the lead United Methodist agency for global health.

As the Conference Secretary of Global Ministries (CSGM), I have enjoyed learning more about the work of the Conference Board of Global Ministries and have enjoyed working with the lay and clergy members on the board. I have been meeting on a regular basis with the Mission Advocates for the South Central Jurisdiction, Elizabeth and David McCormick, who currently reside in Arkansas, as well as with other CSGM's across our jurisdiction. I was privileged to attend a gathering facilitated by the General Board of Global Ministries in November to assist in identifying the priorities for mission moving into the next quadrennium. In addition, I learned more about the missionaries and programs GBGM is currently supporting and how local churches and the Annual Conference can be more involved.

The role of the CSGM is to promote covenant relationships with missionaries around the world or in the U.S. as each missionary serving in the UMC is responsible for raising a portion of their expenses each year. The CSGM also coordinates missionary itineration in the Annual Conference and encourages visits with churches which are currently supporting a missionary as well as with churches interested in doing so. Although missionary support did increase in 2023, there are missionaries who are currently in need of support, and we would love to see more local churches in covenant relationship with individual missionaries.

There are currently four missionaries that the Conference Board of Global Ministries is encouraging churches to consider supporting.

- Elizabeth McCormick, Mission Advocate https://umcmission.org/missionary-bio/3022180/
- David McCormick, Mission Advocates, https://umcmission.org/missionary-bio/3022179/
- Trisha Manns, Church and Community Worker, Central District Youth/Young Adults Initiative https://umcmission.org/missionary-bio/3022241/
- Ellyn Dubberly, Global Missionary, El Salvador https://umcmission.org/missionary-bio/3021818/

In 2023, churches in the Arkansas Annual Conference donated $171,220 to UMCOR and other Global Ministries Projects. In addition, Missionary Support and Advance Projects totaled $19,982. The Conference Board of Global Ministries is grateful for all you do to support missions throughout our connection!

I am grateful to have had this opportunity to serve as the Conference Secretary of Global Ministries for the past 2 years. There will be a new CSGM elected at this Annual Conference this year who will begin in July.

If you would like to learn more about supporting individual missionaries or any other facet of Global Ministries, please contact your newly elected Conference Secretary of Global Ministries.

Rev. Gail Brooks

Council on Children's and Youth Ministries

The Conference Children's Ministries and Conference Youth Ministries teams are working hard to reimagine and redefine the work of our district coordinators and our conference age-level leadership teams. We're excited to continue this work into 2024-2025 and look forward to a visioning retreat in the fall.

While we are dreaming about what is in store for age level ministries in the ARUMC, we continue to offer:

- Regular communication and support through monthly newsletter and Facebook groups
- Extra resources and support to those new to children and/or youth ministry
- Free mentorships for those seeking guidance in their current role
- Scholarships for any children's or youth ministry worker to attend Perkins School of Youth Ministry in January of each year
- Support for paid lay staff, clergy and local congregations seeking to fill age level positions
- Resource and curriculum sharing

Overall, the Conference Children's Ministry Council and the Youth Worker Network continue to be a resilient group of those who value their work and relationships with children and teens. These children's ministry and youth ministry workers continue to commit their support to the young people with who they work and to support one another in this vital work as well.

Respectfully Submitted,
Michelle Moore
Children, Youth and Young Adult Coordinator, ARUMC

Council on Young Adult Ministries

This has been an exciting year for the Conference Council on Young Adult Ministries, which serves laity and clergy in the Arkansas Annual Conference between the ages of 18 and 35. Our hope is to help make connections between young adult clergy and laity in the ARUMC across districts so that they might grow in their faith with God and in relationship with one another. We will have an evening gathering this year during Annual Conference for all young adults to keep making these connections. We will be meeting for a social with dessert provided and on Wednesday, June 19 at 8 pm at Hot Springs First United Methodist Church in the Underground (the youth area) on Pratt Street. All young(ish) adults, clergy and laity are invited to attend.

One of the trademarks of the Young Adult ministries in the Arkansas Conference over the last few years have been our Zoom Monthly Book Clubs. So far, we have read and discussed the following books together: The Cross and the Lynching Tree by James Cone, When Narcissism Comes to Church by Chuck DeGroat, and Inspired by Rachel Held Evans. We have had twelve to fifteen young adults sign up for each book club gathering and have had clergy and laity from across the state, and even those beyond our state who are in school and would like to stay connected to the UMC in Arkansas. Our next young adult book club selection will be a book related to climate justice and caring for God's creation.

Beginning in the Fall, we'll be reading Saving Us: A Climate Scientist's Case for Hope and Healing in a Divided World by Katharine Hayhoe. We will meet monthly to discuss a chapter or two of this book on zoom with other Arkansas United Methodist young adults, please sign-up by emailing Pastor Lauren DeLano at lauren.delano@arumc.org. The books will be provided for free and you have the choice of a paperback, e-book, or audiobook.

To connect with the Conference Young Adult ministries, please fill out this information form so that we can be in touch with you: https://arumc.wufoo.com/forms/arumc-young-adult-information-form/. Thanks to the young adults who have already filled out this form, we've begun creating a database of young adults in the ARUMC so that the Council on Young Adult Ministries can reach out to young adults across Arkansas to connect in ways that are faithful to their desires for growing in their faith.

Finally, if your church has a young adult ministry and you would like to share a story of transformation about this ministry, we would love to hear about it. We would like to collect young adult ministry stories to encourage other churches to begin ministries of their own. You can share your story here: https://arumc.wufoo.com/forms/xdosiv21f5sz9m/.

Equitable Compensation Commission

For 77 years, the Conference has provided financial support to churches allowing them to provide pastoral salaries suitable for their mission fields. The mission of the CEC is to enable charges/churches to make disciples of Jesus Christ by providing appropriate compensation for effective pastoral leadership. The Commission on Equitable Compensation (CEC) of the Arkansas Annual Conference does this in four areas: recommending Minimum Compensation for all clergy under full-time appointment and providing Key Charge, Minimum Base Compensation, and emergency Salary Arrearage funding to churches identified by the Cabinet.

As of April 26, 2024, the Conference was supporting one charge through the Key Charge program. This was their final year to receive this support.

1. Calico Rock UMC

At this time, we have no churches receiving equitable compensation support.

I. Minimum Full-Time Compensation

The CEC recommends that the Minimum Compensation Payment Schedule and guidelines for full-time pastors under appointment remain unchanged for the 2023-2024 Appointment Year, as printed below.

Full Connection: $48,330
Provisional/Associate Member: $47,280
Local Pastor: $46,230

Appointed pastors serving a charge that provides a group health insurance plan shall be subject to the following minimum compensation support:

Full Connection: $36,330
Provisional/Associate Member: $35,280
Local Pastor: $34,230

A parsonage or housing allowance in lieu of a parsonage shall be provided in addition to the figures listed above.

II. Key Charge/Church Program for Base Compensation Support

The Key Charge/Church program provides Base Compensation Support to pastors who are appointed to charges/churches targeted for significant growth by the Conference or are in transition and require short-term support for effective pastoral leadership for various other reasons. Key Charges/Churches are related to the CEC by a covenant agreement. The covenant is negotiated by the chair of the Commission, the appointive cabinet, and representatives of the charge/church. The persons or their successors, shall be the trustees of the covenant, having verified it with their signatures.

The covenant shall include:

1. The initial amount of the Base Compensation Support needed,
2. The duration of the covenant (normally five (5) years or less),

and

3. The signatures of the persons negotiating the covenant.

The nature of the covenant is such that the amount of compensation support given shall decrease proportionately each year, while the compensation paid by the charge/church increases by at least the same amount, thus keeping the compensation at least stable over the covenant period. After the covenant has expired, no further compensation support will be granted to the charge/church.

Under the Key Charge/Church arrangement, there shall be no required minimum or maximum levels of support by the charge/church. The only limitation will be the amount of funding budgeted for this program.

Each church receiving compensation shall report by April 15 to the Appointive Cabinet for review and the Commission on Equitable Compensation for continuing approval. The report form is available from the district superintendent and the Arkansas Annual Conference website at arumc.org.

III. Minimum Base Compensation Support

The Minimum Base Compensation program is intended to assist in providing compensation for capable, effective pastoral leadership to charges/churches which function in areas of extreme economic limitation and which are unable to provide a viable level of pastoral support. Where charges/churches are in need of additional compensation in order to meet the Minimum Compensation Base Support, this support is available to Elders in Full Connection, Provisional/Associate Members (not to be confused with associate pastors), and Full-Time Local Pastors who are not retired. Upon recommendation by the Commission on Equitable Compensation, the minimum base compensation is set annually by the Annual Conference for Elders, Provisional/Associate members and Full Time Local Pastors. (Minimum Full-Time Compensation has appeared previously in this report.)

Charges/churches receiving Minimum Compensation Support are related to the CEC by a covenant agreement negotiated by the chair of the Commission, the appointive cabinet, and representatives of the charge/church. The signors or their successors shall be the trustees of the covenant, having verified it with their signatures.

It is understood that:

1. A parsonage or housing allowance in lieu of the parsonage shall be provided in addition to the set compensation.
2. Associate pastors (not to be confused with Associate Members of the Annual Conference) are not eligible for Minimum Compensation aid.
3. Retired pastors are not eligible for Minimum Compensation aid. See Paragraph 357.6 of the 2016 Book of Discipline.
4. Each charge/church receiving Minimum Compensation Support shall provide to the Commission the amount(s) received from the Arkansas Conference for the past five (5) years. We further require that each local church describe how they will reduce this support through the local church's ministry plan.
5. Each church receiving compensation shall report by April 15 to the Appointive Cabinet for review and the Commission on Equitable Compensation for continuing approval. The report form is available from the district superintendent and the Arkansas Annual Conference website at arumc.org.

IV. Emergency Salary Arrearage Support

Every clergy under appointment shall receive the full compensation set at Charge Conference. (See Paragraph 624 of the 2016 Discipline.) If a church is financially unable to provide the full compensation in a timely manner, the Annual Conference through the CEC may provide emergency funding to ensure the clergy is provided the compensation the church promised at the Charge Conference. The Arkansas Annual Conference Salary Arrearage Policy is found in Paragraph 103 of the Policy & Guidelines section of this Journal.

V. Equitable Compensation Covenant

When Equitable Compensation support has been granted to a charge/church, an acknowledgement of the conditions and amount of that funding shall be executed by the appointive cabinet, pastor, and leaders of the charge/church before any payment of funds shall be made. This acknowledgement shall be made on a form provided by the commission. No funds shall be disbursed until the agreement is signed and returned to the district superintendent. These forms are available from the district superintendent and the conference website at arumc.org.

The charge/church receiving financial support shall submit an annual report. The report form is available from the district superintendent and the conference website at arumc.org. Included in this report is the explanation of how these funds have aided the local charge/church. Each church receiving compensation shall report by April 15 to the Appointive Cabinet for review and the Commission on Equitable Compensation for continuing approval.

VI. Additional Priorities

1. The Commission on Equitable Compensation shall maintain adequate reserves to fund needs which may emerge.
2. Each charge/church receiving equitable compensation in any of the above categories is expected to pay its conference tithe in full. If the charge/church is unable to accomplish this, they shall submit a written plan of action approved by their district superintendent, detailing the steps to be taken in order to achieve this goal. Notification of the plan will then be forwarded to the CEC.
3. All CEC funding is for pastoral support only. Using funds for any other purpose, such as program costs or other compensation violates the agreement.
4. Equitable Compensation funds are paid directly to the church/charge by the fifteenth (15th) of each month. The compensation shall be paid to the pastor as a supplement to funds budgeted by the charge/church. Typically, the calendar year of support is from July 1 through June 30, but the initial request and approval process may take place at any time during the year.

Nominating Committee

This has been a busy year for the Nominations Committee. There are a lot of new names on the Leadership Report because quadrennium appointments have expired and the 2020 General Conference has met which allowed us to update the Episcopacy Committee, CFA and Board of Ordained Ministry. The full leadership report will be included in your Annual Conference packets. Thank you to everyone who has agreed to serve on a conference committee. I encourage everyone to go to arumc.org and fill out an online Nominations profile sheet under the Forms and Documents tab. Clergy, please encourage laity in your congregations to fill out a form to help us put people on committees that will best use their gifts.

Grace and Peace,

Project Transformation

Project Transformation held its second summer of ministry in summer 2023. Project Transformation's (PT's) mission is to transform communities by engaging children, college-age young adults, and churches in purposeful relationships. PT does this in two ways. First, the program engages children in holistic development, strengthening their literacy, social-emotional skills, and spiritual growth through a summer day camp. At the same time, young adults are engaged in purposeful leadership and ministry as they lead children's programming, live in an intentional Christian community, and focus on vocational discernment. Ultimately, PT becomes a tool to connect churches with their communities through hosting and supporting out-of- school- time programs.

Children
For 8 weeks, children at PT took part in arts and crafts, daily recreation, Bible studies, and 40 minutes of reading one-to-one with volunteers. During this time, the children built positive relationships with college-aged interns who encouraged them.

In 2023,

- 66 children participated in summer programming with 27 returning from the inaugural summer
- 95% of participants felt loved and accepted at PT Arkansas.
- 87% of children in the program maintained or improved their reading levels
- 4,321 meals and snacks were served

College-Age Young Adults
PT Arkansas engaged 10 college-aged young adults from 4 different colleges and 7 different areas of study. All of the young adult leaders were from communities across Arkansas. These young adults invested their time and energy to support children in Pine Bluff, while also taking time to explore where God is calling them. Young adults visited 6 area nonprofits and ministries: the Methodist Foundation for Arkansas, Methodist Family Health, Voices for Children of Jefferson County, The Generator, Pine Bluff City Hall, and Neighbor to Neighbor of Jefferson County. They lived in intentional Christian community at the White Hall UMC eating meals and worshipping together.

- 100% of young adults built relationships with children, peers, and church leadership.

Churches
The success of Project Transformation would not be possible without the investment and support of our partner and host churches. Two United Methodist Churches opened their doors to families in their communities. In partnership with their intern teams, St. Luke and Lakeside UMCs provided impactful programming in their neighborhoods. Each hosted a Family Fun Night to gather children and their families at their churches for games and a meal. PT partnered with St. James in Pine Bluff to host an end of summer celebration for children, young adults, and volunteers.

Over a dozen partnering churches and organizations provided meals for interns and volunteers to read with children. These included Benton First, Bryant First, Highland Valley, Lakeside, Lakewood, Oak Forest, Pulaski Heights, St. Luke, St. James- Little Rock, St. James- Pine Bluff, Sulphur Springs, Sheridan, Monticello, Huntsville, and the Conference Staff.

- 172 unique volunteers read with children and provided meals for young adults
- Over 641 volunteer hours served with the reading program

Project Transformation is always looking for new partners to serve as volunteers, provide meals, and learn about our programs. If your congregation or you as an individual would like to learn more about how you can support this ministry, visit: projecttransformation.org/arkansas, email smeadors@ptarkansas.org, or call 501-650-0565.

The latter reflects a growing trend among all theological schools in the United States and Canada. Drew holds in-person classes in Madison, New Jersey, several classes meet exclusively online, while other meet in hybrid fashion, i.e., partially online, partially in-person. This is also the case with chapel worship which originates in Seminary Hall, but also is live-streamed so that students around the world participate. Drew Theological School is a global seminary with a global student population serving the worldwide church.

In Fall 2023 Drew Theological School welcomed 104 new students in all degree programs, with total student enrollment (by head count) growing from 364 students in Fall 2021 to 407 in Fall 2023 semester. Duke Divinity School

Duke Divinity School can attest to the work of God's Spirit to usher us into a season of hope and continued faithfulness to the mission and calling to serve the church, academy, and the world. In 2023, the Duke University president and provost appointed Dean Edgardo Colón-Emeric for a full five-year term.

In the next three years, we will celebrate a number of centennial milestones: Duke University and The Duke Endowment (2024), the 17th centennial of the Council of Nicaea (2025), and Duke Divinity School (2026). As a foretaste of those occasions to reflect and celebrate, we have had two important milestone celebrations in 2023. The Office of Black Church Studies (OBCS) commemorated its 50th anniversary. The Rev. Dr. Cynthia Hale (D'79) received Duke University's Distinguished Alumni Award in recognition of her outstanding contributions in ministry and service. The Hispanic House of Studies (HHS) celebrated its quinceañera (15th anniversary). HHS was created by the Divinity School, with support from The Duke Endowment, to support the formation of ministers to Hispanic/Latinx congregations and communities in the North Carolina and Western North Carolina Annual Conferences and beyond. These efforts extend throughout our academic and ministerial programs. For instance, we now offer the "Rediscovering the Heart of Methodism" course in Spanish on Divinity+.

This fall, we welcomed 215 entering students from 35 different states and 16 other countries. The Master of Divinity program gained 104 new students, with 54 residential students and 50 in the hybrid program. The Master of Arts in Christian Practice enrolled 13 new students; the Doctor of Ministry, 22; Master of Theology, 11; Master of Theological Studies, 29; the Doctor of Theology welcomed five new students to campus, and five special students enrolled. The Certificate in Theology and Health Care welcomed 11 residential students to campus and 15 in the hybrid program. Across all degree programs at the Divinity School, 31 percent of the incoming class identified as a race or ethnicity other than white.

Duke Divinity School continues to invest in pathways to support Methodist leadership and pastoral formation. Divinity+ launched the Church Administration series focused on developing practical skills for church leaders. More than 1,000 learners have enrolled in the first two courses, "Theology and Time Management" and "Strategic Management." We inaugurated the Certificate in Chaplaincy, designed to prepare students to provide spiritual care in a variety of settings such as hospitals, hospice, prisons, higher education, and the military. The certificate can be earned as part of the residential M.Div., Th.M., and M.T.S. degree programs.
The school has also welcomed new leaders who bring their gifts to the work of advancing the mission to serve Christ and the church. The Office of Black Church Studies is led by the Rev. Dr. Eric Lewis Williams (D'05), assistant professor of theology and Black Church Studies; and the Anglican Episcopal House of Studies has named the Very Rev. Timothy Kimbrough (D'83), Jack and Barbara Bovender Professor of the Practice of Anglican Studies. Key members who have joined our staff team include Anita Lumpkin, executive director of enrollment management; and the Rev. Sarah Belles, a Duke Divinity alumna and ordained elder in full connection with the Western North Carolina Annual Conference, as the director of student life.

With gratitude to funding from the Lilly Endowment, the Divinity School has launched the Transformative Preaching Lab to prepare creative, culturally competent preachers who can reach audiences in effective and engaging ways. It will expand preaching training for students in the hybrid M.Div. program with new courses and preaching laboratories and new capacities to explore and engage digital tools for community worship and preaching. The Transformative Preaching Lab also provides new opportunities for formation in trauma-informed preaching and preaching in immigrant communities.

The Theology, Medicine, and Culture initiative has launched the Mental Health Track for Christian mental health practitioners as part of its Certificate in Theology and Health Care. This hybrid certificate program offers spiritual and theological formation for mental health clinicians in a range of disciplines. The research and programming from Duke Divinity initiatives, including Theology, Medicine, and Culture; Duke Initiatives in Theology and the Arts; Leadership Education at Duke Divinity; and Thriving Rural Communities, continue to provide numerous opportunities to bear witness to God's creativity, compassion, and care for communities and congregations.
Duke Divinity School continues to be grateful for our ongoing participation in The United Methodist Church and partnership with this annual conference.

Hendrix College

"In religious and vocational programs combined with service learning, Hendrix continues to develop clergy and lay leaders for faithful service inside the church and beyond...helping students find meaningful vocations connected to who they are and how they want to serve in the world. "
—Hendrix College Statement on Church Relatedness, adopted by the faculty and board of trustees in spring 2017

Vocational discernment, engaged learning, and academic excellence are some of the hallmarks of Hendrix College that have their roots in the Methodist value of uniting faith and knowledge. The College is proud to continue the vision set out by its founders almost 150 years ago. Recognized widely as one of the best small colleges in the country, Hendrix expresses its appreciation to the Arkansas Conference for the support it gives to the programs and mission of this institution. As a United Methodist Church-related college, the College embraces the freedom of the academy where students and faculty explore the boundaries of knowledge while setting a context for that exploration in an ethos that values growth of both the mind and the spirit. In this way we fulfi11 our mission to cultivate whole persons and to inspire our students to live lives of accomplishment, integrity, service, and joy in their communities.

We are pleased to highlight some of the many ways that Hendrix College changes lives.

Religious Life and Vocational Exploration

Through the Office of the Chaplain and the Miller Center for Vocation, Ethics, and Calling, Hendrix College focuses on connecting students with opportunities and resources to deepen their faith, to grow in relationships and leadership, and to explore and discern vocational paths where their gifts may be well cultivated and shared for a life of meaning and purpose.

- Since 2004, 63 Hendrix graduates have enrolled in seminary with 75% of these students attending UM seminaries.
- Three recent Hendrix alumni are currently in seminary.
- The UMYF Leadership Scholarship Program is completing its 29'h year. Currently 22 students participate who will eventually join over 300 alumni from the program.
- These scholars form the core community on campus who participate in and help lead weekly worship and communion, small groups for support and discipleship. retreats, and opportunities for fellowship and serving.
- Of the 22 2023-2024 UMYF Leadership Scholars, 14 have expressed “maybe” or “yes” to the possibility of’ a call to ministry, with eight o1 them confident in that call. Students who are discerning ministry are offered mentoring, opportunities to lead and serve on campus and beyond, and engagement with leaders in ministry in a variety of roles.
- Internships in local churches and non-profit ministry settings match exploring students with seasoned ministry leaders and opportunities for mentoring and discovery. Many of these are funded through the Center for Calling and Christian Leadership (CCCL), a grant funded through the Methodist Foundation for Arkansas (MFA).
- CCCL also provides leadership and support for seminary trips with groups of other Arkansas UM students, or funding assistance for individual seminary visits. In the past 18 months, thirteen students from Philander Smith University and Hendrix College have made seminary visits to explore graduate theological education, to schools such as Candler, Gammon, Garrett-Evangelical, Iliff, Perkins, and Wesley,
- The Miller Center Service Scholars form a core community on campus which cultivates a spirit of serving and vocational reflection.
- The two Thomas J. Watson Fellows who were honored and named this year, are each 2024 graduates of one of these Scholars cohorts. Lauren Seckington (UM Scholar) from Bentonville, and Marcia Williams (Miller Scholar) from Vilonia will each spend the next 12 months exploring areas of interest in faith and ecology, respectively, in multiple countries around the world.
- This year's service learning trips through the Miller Center has taken students to Tucson, Arizona, and Taize, France,
- Since 2016, over 80 high school juniors and seniors have attended the Hendrix Youth Institute (HYI), which is part of the Youth Theology Network of similar programs across the nation funded by the Lilly Endowment. The HYI format has shifted to the current design as an intensive retreat for ministry exploration, followed by participation in a special “track” of Senior High Assembly. HYI is also supported by the Arkansas Conference and the Methodist Foundation for Arkansas.

Church Relations

- United Methodist groups that the College has hosted for no rental fee include the Arkansas United Methodist Conference Historical Society, Board of Ordained Ministry, and various local and district meetings.
- In 2024, Hendrix will host the Jr. & Sr. High Assemblies for the Arkansas Conference Council on Youth Ministries, “Mission u” for the Conference United Women in Faith, and Methodist youth groups from Texas who will be doing mi5Sion work in the area.
- More than 450 churches across the Arkansas Conference have had Hendrix students assist with worship services and/or serve as interns in the past 29 years.

Continuing Education

- This year on campus, the College hosted Diana Butler Bass, award-winning author, speaker, preacher, and theologian for the Willson Lecture which centered around her recent book Grateful, and for the annual John and Marjem Gill Preaching Workshop, which focused on interpreting culture and context as the audience for faithful preaching and proclamation. Next year's Preaching Workshop leader will be Rev. Nadia Bolz- Weber, and will be held during Fall 2025 in conjunction with the Compelling Preaching Initiative program provided by the Lilly Foundation.

Funding Received from Outside Sources for Religious Life and Ministry Support

- An endowed gift from the John Workman family for a summer internship in churches, non-profits, or journalism.
- An endowed gift from the Wilder family to establish an internship in churches and non-- profit agencies.
- Grants from the Lilly Endowment (listed above) for United Methodist youth who are discerning a call to ministry.
- A gift from the Methodist Foundation for Arkansas to create the Center for Calling and Christian Leadership (2018-present).
- A grant from the Methodist Foundation for Arkansas for “Feed the World,” a series of learning and serving opportunities for students to connect with leaders. ministries, and organizations addressing poverty, food insecurity, disaster relief, and other situations where there is deep hunger for care, hope, and partnership.

Financial Aid/Enrollment

- Identified as a “Best Value College” by US News and World Report, Hendrix College strives to offer students an affordable, high quality education grounded in the liberal arts. Through the Tuition Advantage program, most Hendrix students do not pay more in tuition than the published rate of their home state flagship university.
- Hendrix College provides more than $2.7 million in institutional aid to United Methodist students.
- For the 2023 calendar year, the College received $70,549,96 from the Arkansas Conference of the United Methodist Church, with 100% of the church apportionment going toward the Office of the Chaplain and programming through the Office of Religious Life.
- The sustainability of our commitment to financial access is uncertain in light of the demographic and political pressures facing institutions like Hendrix College. As part of an overall planning process, I anticipate changes to our financial model.

The relationship between Methodists and higher education is rooted in the historical teachings of John and Charles Wesley. Hendrix College values its relationship with the Arkansas Conference of The United Methodist Church and the opportunity to fulfill Wesley's vision to bring together intellectual curiosity, spiritual formation, knowledge, and vital piety. Your gifts go directly to provide programming for our UMYF Leadership Scholars, service-learning opportunities, ministry internships, and a wide range of religious life and discipleship opportunities. We are grateful for the many ways in which the United Methodist Churches of Arkansas support Hendrix.

Methodist Foundation for Arkansas

2023 was certainly a monumental year for The Methodist Foundation for Arkansas. Like in past years, more new churches opened accounts with the Foundation, and existing account holders added to their current accounts. These financial investments point to a broader and greater truth: the faith and trust churches, institutions, and individuals have in The Methodist Foundation for Arkansas. We don't take this for granted and are honored to be a partner in their ministry. It was another great year for significant grants to churches, Methodist-related institutions, the Arkansas Annual Conference, and non-profits around the state for life-changing, discipleship-making ministries.

What set 2023 apart from other years was our 60th Anniversary. Since 1963, the Foundation has been doing great work to help churches, institutions, and individuals manage funds for enhancing ministries. We have awarded millions of dollars in grants, provided leadership training and spiritual growth opportunities for lay and clergy, and helped individuals define their legacy. This past year was an excellent opportunity for the Foundation and all our partners to celebrate what has been accomplished in the last 60 years and dream about the next 60 years (and beyond).

Assets

At the close of 2023, the Foundation's assets totaled $217 million, reflecting positive investment performance and a significant number of new accounts. Based on total assets, The Methodist Foundation for Arkansas ranks sixth among the 47 Methodist Foundations nationwide; in grant awards, the Foundation leads all Foundations in the country, awarding over $1.5 million in 2023.

Approximately half of the Foundation's assets are owned by churches and institutions. The other half were given in faith and trust to the Foundation over the last 60 years. A significant portion of the funds given to the Foundation have specific designations honored by the Foundation.

The Foundation's managed accounts, established by Arkansas Methodist churches or church members, generate money in perpetuity, returning earnings to church ministries year after year. These funds directly support children and youth ministries, scholarships, music programs, mission work, and building maintenance.

Grants

The Foundation's Board of Directors Grant Committee continued to dramatically impact the Methodist Church in Arkansas during 2023, awarding over $1.5 million among more than 109 grants, more than any other United Methodist Foundation. The Methodist Foundation for Arkansas has been blessed over the years with unrestricted gifts, and our staff and Grant Committee work diligently to be good stewards of these funds.

Grants were awarded in 11 priority areas: clergy and laity education, clergy self-care, community health, diversity, enabling education and employment, environmental and energy education, evangelism and discipleship, food insecurity, homelessness, poverty, and charitable.

Compelling Preaching Initiative Grant from Lilly Endowment, Inc.
The Methodist Foundation for Arkansas received a grant of over $1.2 million from Lilly Endowment Inc., focusing on serving the local Methodist church by providing resources and support for leadership development. The program is funded through Lilly Endowment's Compelling Preaching Initiative. It aims to foster and support preaching that inspires, encourages, and guides people to fully understand and love God and live out their Christian faith.

The MFA's Compelling Preaching Initiative grant is a statewide five-year program open to clergy members of the Arkansas United Methodist Conference. The Foundation is one of 81 organizations receiving grants through this competitive round of the Compelling Preaching Initiative.

Planning a Legacy: How Faithful People Prepare
The Foundation is busy with its Planning a Legacy program. This holistic estate planning seminar covers basic information about wills, funeral and memorial services, end-of-life planning, and legacy gifts. It aims to inspire participants to take their next steps in estate planning and to see it as a part of their legacy.

The format is a 90-minute gathering with a meal, a presentation from the Foundation, and a Q&A with an attorney. Childcare and meal costs are included. Participants will receive a binder with helpful documents to reference and complete as they start or continue this process. At the end of 2023, more than 23 churches benefitted by having the program presented to their congregations. We invite you to contact the Foundation to schedule this 90-minute program at your church by contacting (501) 664-8632 or info@methodistfoundationAR.org.

Mount Eagle

Mount Eagle's momentum is ever upward. Our 2023 guest attendance and occupancy were the second highest in our 53-year history. For the first time in a long while, our campground and RV park are being occupied several times a month. Our day-use numbers have increased thanks to our new disc golf course and growing word of mouth of our inspiring trails, caves, and waterfalls.

Crafting and Quilting groups continued to have a strong attendance. Our Mount Eagle sponsored programming opportunities have expanded to include Grief, Writing, and Enneagram retreats. We hosted our 4th Annual Fishing Retreat in 2023 and Clergy Golf seems to be a favorite. Church women, men, and youth groups experience God through fellowship with each other in growing numbers.

We had major construction projects in 2023 with the bulk of it being the replacement of three roofs (Beal, Kaetzell, and the log house). We have updated our road signs, which have had a significant impact on welcoming guests. In preparation for the 2024 solar eclipse, we made improvements to our Allan Bruner Campground, by enclosing the showers and expanding the tent pads. Through a generous grant we have been able to construct a tiny house to be able to start an Internship Program, which will allow colleges students to explore their calling and serve this beautiful ministry. We are on track to have our first intern in the summer of 2024. We would not have been able to complete many of these projects without grants and generous donations.

We made progress restructuring our revenue opportunities into a more traditional non-profit model caused by the gradual elimination of conference assistance. This is our continued challenge and focus of the Board of Directors. We are engaging with an outside consulting group to help with this challenge.

Every day, we provide a chance for so many to experience Gods love through fellowship and community or by just sitting in silence and listening. Our guests are coming back because they agree with our vision and find God in every experience. The glorious sunrises and the rolling morning fog over the river continues to beckon and inspire. We look forward to 2024.

United Theological Seminary

For more than 150 years, United Theological Seminary has prepared men and women to serve as faithful and fruitful Christian leaders who make disciples of Jesus Christ. In the 2022-2023 academic year, the seminary served 547 students, representing 36 states, 20 countries, and 43 denominations, with 38% of students identifying as United Methodist. United in Christ, the student body is a multi-ethnic, multi-racial community that is 43% African American, 27% White, 18% international, 9% Hispanic, and 2% Asian or Pacific Islander.* During the 2022-2023 academic year, 120 graduates completed their programs.

Houses of Study

United's academic programs include seven Houses of Study for denominational, church renewal, and/or language- and culture-based ministry, including online Spanish and Korean houses of study. These houses of study have enrolled over 120 new master's students in the United States and around the world.

Bishop Bruce Ough Innovation Center

In 2023, the Bishop Bruce Ough Innovation Center, directed by Rev. Sue Nilson Kibbey, engaged more than 5,000 participants through 64 resourcing events and activities. The Center partnered with the Black Methodists for Church Renewal Laity Advocacy Committee to conduct the 2023 Laity Leadership Institution. The Center also launched a Dynamite Prayer movement, based on the guidebook Dynamite Prayer: A 28 Day Experiment (Invite Resources, 2022) by Rev. Kibbey and Rev. Dr. Rosario Picardo. Multiple United Methodist conferences and more than 90 congregations across denominations committed to be part of a Dynamite Prayer Wave and received resourcing on the practice of "breakthrough prayer."

New Faces at United

Over the past year, the seminary welcomed several new members to the United community. Bishop James Swanson, most recently bishop of the Mississippi Conference of The United Methodist Church, was installed as United Methodist Bishop-in-Residence. Dr. Pauline Paris Buisch and Rev. Dr. Xavier L. Johnson joined the faculty as Assistant Professor of Old Testament and Assistant Professor of Preaching and Black Church Studies, respectively, and Dr. Eliseo Mejia came on board as the Academic Oversight Officer for the Hispanic House of Study.

Reducing Student Debt

Finances shouldn't stand in the way of a seminary education. That's why United has launched the Fresh Wind: Where the Spirit Takes Flight campaign to add $10 million to the scholarship endowment, which will dramatically increase the seminary's capacity to provide scholarships to students for many years to come. As of January 2024, the seminary was more than 70% toward the $10 million goal.

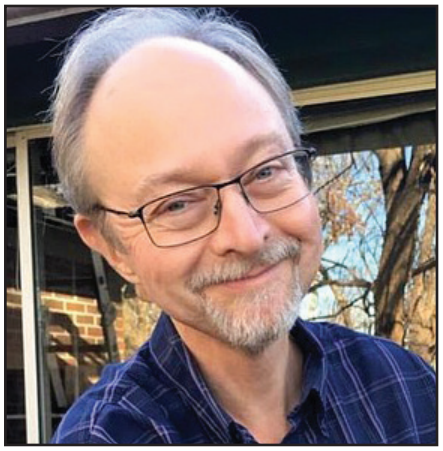
Lawson Leonard Delony III
October 17, 1957 - March 14, 2024



Lawson Leonard Delony III died on March 14, 2024, on the beach, while vacationing with his family, in Florida. His memorial service was at 1 p.m. on Saturday, May 25, at First United Methodist Church, in Fort Worth.

Len was born to Patricia and Lawson Delony, Jr., on Oct. 17, 1957. He and his sister, Diane, were raised in Little Rock, where their father worked in the savings and loan business, and the family attended Trinity Episcopal Cathedral. A son of the Arkansas backwoods, Len loved fishing, hiking, star-gazing, and foraging. He could identify birds by their songs and even befriended a fair number of them. He knew his place in the universe and could tell you when, where, and in what phase the moon would rise and what planets would hang nearby. Len's experience of childhood cancer and the care he received at St. Jude Children's Hospital shaped his life and vocation.

Len married Rebekah Miles in 1981, while at Hendrix College. They received their MDiv degrees from Iliff School of Theology and moved to Chicago, where Len earned an MSW from the University of Chicago and a DMin from Chicago Theological Seminary.

A United Methodist clergyperson, Len spent most of his ministry in the Fort Worth area, where he and Rebekah moved in 1992. Len served as a hospital and hospice chaplain, a spiritual director, a full-time dad after their children, Anna and Katherine, were born, and an associate pastor of Spiritual Formation at First United Methodist in Fort Worth. Len was a founder of the Fellowship of United Methodist Spiritual Directors and Retreat Leaders (now Hearts Alive). He received a certificate in Spiritual Guidance from the Shalem Center, and was co-chair of the prayer ministries team for the 2004 United Methodist General Conference in Fort Worth. In all of this, Len spoke of and practiced being present to the eternal now.

Len was preceded in death by his mother, Patricia; in-laws, JoAnn and John Miles; and many aunts, uncles, and cousins. He is survived by his father, Lawson Leonard, Jr; his wife, Rebekah; adult children, Katherine Delony and Anna and Abby Delony-Buller; siblings, Diane and Ashvin Vibhakar, Deborah Miles and Marc Rudow, and John and Susan Miles; nieces and nephews, Nathan and Abbey Vibhakar, Josh, Galit, Caleb, and Duvey Rudow, Trey and Kelsea Miles, Brandon and Zoe Loeser; and great-nieces and nephews, Nate, Trevor, Talia, Luci, Avi, Scott, Evie, and Georgia, along with other dear family members and friends.

The family is grateful for the gracious community that surrounded Len in his dying and the family in their grieving. If you would like to make a donation in Len's memory, please consider St. Jude Children's Hospital.

Lisa Taylor Dillon
August 21, 1963 - May 16, 2024

Lisa Taylor Dillon, 60, of Beebe, AR passed away on May 16, 2024, in Little Rock, AR.

Lisa was born on August 21, 1963, to Roy Dale “Sam” and Mary “Jane” Taylor in Searcy, AR.

After Lisa graduated from Beebe High School, she went on to become a Registered Nurse. Later, she became a flight nurse for Med-Flight where she loved the adrenaline rush. After that, she settled down with seeing patients as an A.P.R.N. Caring for her patients was her passion. She always believed that everyone, no matter where they came from, deserved to have quality healthcare. She had a servant’s heart and her favorite phrase was “Least, Lost, and Forgotten” because everyone deserves proper treatment and grace. Lisa was one of the best in her field and was highly respected. She impacted so many lives throughout her career.

Although Lisa loved her career, she always put her family first. Her two children, Taylor and Colton, were her two most treasured accomplishments. She always enjoyed being at the softball fields with Taylor and spending time with Colton. Lisa never missed an opportunity to call or text her children. She was always making sure that they had everything that they needed. Besides her children, she loved being “Auntie Lisa” to Emma Pacheco. It was “Auntie Lisa” and Emma against the world when they were together. The love that she had for her loved ones was undeniable.

Later in life, Lisa met and married James Turner. These two shared a love for fishing. If you knew Lisa, there was always a fishing pole nearby. It didn’t matter if the fish were biting or not, she was just happy to be there. She always talked about how she and her daddy would stop on the side of the road and fish because there “might” be fish there. Despite all of her health issues, her love of fishing never faded. From the Arkansas River to the Gulf of Mexico, she made James take her everywhere she could think of to go fishing. These were some of her fondest memories.

When Lisa could no longer work, she poured her heart and soul into the youth at church, charity work, and her women’s conferences. She gained so many friends throughout the years. She would talk about how much she loved her church family and always looked forward to seeing them every week. She never tired of coming up with projects and ideas for the churches. This usually resulted in her mom having to lend a helping hand. She loved Jesus and knew he would be waiting for her.

Lisa was preceded in death by her father, Roy Dale “Sam” Taylor. Lisa is survived by her mother, Mary “Jane” Taylor, husband James Turner, daughter Taylor Dillon-Carney (Matt), and son Colton Dillon. Also, left to cherish her memory is her sweet Emma Pacheco. Her legacy will live on through all of the lives that she has touched.

Visitation was Sunday, May 19, 2024, at McEuen Funeral Home at 2616 S. Main Street in Searcy, AR, with the service following. Burial was at the Garner Cemetery.

Ethel Lu Teague Elliott
1940 - October 19, 2023

In the wee hours of the morning on October 19, the birth date of her predeceased beloved husband Reverend William Dean Elliott, Lu entered the arms of the Lord. As we all know, Lu did things on her terms, and as the woman of strength she always was, she held on for many months until she was reunited in Heaven with Bill.

Theirs was a true storybook romance, with Bill proposing on their second date and Lu accepting. Their marriage lasted over 54 years until the death of Bill. As a couple, they faithfully worked together in every church Bill served. Whether volunteering with the church youth or working with elderly church members, Bill and Lu took joy in serving the members of the church.

Lu Elliott was born and raised in Arkadelphia, AR. After graduating from Arkadelphia High School, she furthered her education at Texas Women's University in Denton, TX, earning a bachelor's degree in nursing. A great deal of her education occurred at Parkland Hospital in Dallas where she was on call the night John F Kennedy was rushed in after being shot. She finished her education later at UAMS, earning a master's degree in nursing.

Lu is also preceded in death by her parents Milton and Ethel Teague. She is survived by her 3 sons, Dean (Jacquelyn), Lee (Astrid), and John Paul (Rhonda) as well as her "bonus son" Lindall Mitchell (Sandy). She is also survived by the ones who brought her the greatest joys of her life, her five grandchildren Grant, Caroline, Lauren, Arden, and Will, who fondly remember her as "Mimi Lu". She is also survived by her siblings Barbara Lee (Phillip), Warfield, and Ed Green (Darlene).

Serving in the busy roles of mother of three rather rambunctious boys and preacher's wife to a Methodist minister, Lu also utilized her nursing degrees in various roles from Scrub Nurse to school nurse. She was also a professor at UAM, UAMS, ASU-Beebe, and National Park College in Hot Springs. In what little spare time she had, Mom was an active member of whichever local PEO Chapter was in the Arkansas town where she and her family lived. Mom served as State President of PEO from 1981-1982 and served on the state board for seven years while still maintaining her full-time work and family schedule.

Being an excellent cook, Lu would always cook an extra-large lunch on Sunday for the inevitable visitor from out of town, a lonely church member, or her son's friends who were always welcome to join the family after church for a meal.

After getting her boys ready for the 8:30 church services while cooking a full meal which usually included a pie for dessert, Lu and the boys would attend church and Sunday school. She would then bring her sons home and happily wait to welcome whoever happened to come to lunch that Sunday.

Lu had many wonderful caregivers throughout the years. In particular, the family would like to thank Melanie Pilcher at UAMS for the patience and love she exhibited towards Mom on each of her many appointments.

Lu spent her final years as a resident of Woodland Heights in Little Rock. As there are so many wonderful staff people there who treated their "Lu Lu" with such a high degree of respect and a great depth of love, it is impossible to name each one. The staff on the first and second floors became Mom's extended family, and she loved each one of them. We are deeply appreciative of the care they provided Mom. The Woodland Heights staff will always have a special place in the hearts of Lu's family.

We would also like to thank the congregation of Trinity United Methodist Church, where Mom was a faithful member for many years. We would ask that any memorials be directed to Trinity United Methodist Church, 1101 N Mississippi, Little Rock, AR 72207.

Visitation was held at Trinity United Methodist Church on Friday, October 27, with a memorial service at Trinity United Methodist Church on Saturday, October 28th.

After Gene and Gwen left Nashville in May of 1960 Gene served the Methodist Church in Des Arc. Following a time at Pullman Heights Methodist Church, in Hot Springs, the family moved to Grady where Gene was both the pastor at the Methodist Church, and a Chaplain at Cummins Prison. Gene began to be concerned about the incarcerated men and worked to expand Spiritual services there. He saw a need for rehabilitative opportunities for these individuals and began connecting with people who could help make this a reality.

He started the Arkansas Release Guidance Foundation, to address the needs of recently released prisoners, while serving the Tillar Charge. In January of 1968, the family moved to Little Rock where Gene was able to open a halfway house for young men which he called The New Life House. Rev. Gerald Edwin Meeks Sr.
December 1, 1941 - November 15, 2023

The Reverend Gerald Edwin Meeks Sr. (Jerry) was born on December 1, 1941, to Ed and Lois Meeks in Memphis, TN, and passed away on November 15, 2023, at the age of 81.

He graduated from Memphis Central High School and married the love of his life, Donna Jane Murphy (i.e., "DJ"), when he was 19 after what was supposed to have just been a "summer romance" at scout camp. That "summer romance" lasted over 62 years, due in large part to his blue eyes and "snowman" romantic attitude. During that time, he was a lifelong learner who, after getting his bachelor's degree in education attained two master's degrees, one in education from Memphis State University (now University of Memphis) and one in divinity from Memphis Theological Seminary, all while supporting and raising two children, Jed and Margie. After being a teacher, coach, and assistant principal in the Memphis City Schools and principal of Marion High School, he fulfilled his lifelong dream of being ordained an elder in the Arkansas Conference of the United Methodist Church. In that capacity, he pastored UMCs at West Memphis, Crawfordsville, Eureka Springs, Clinton, Walnut Ridge, Gardner, and Trinity in North Little Rock.

Upon retirement, he became a Master Naturalist due to his unparalleled knowledge of trees, thanks to his previous Eagle Scout experience. Most of all, he was the cornerstone for his family, who have tried to mirror his balance of love, compassion, and discipline, coupled with a biting wit and healthy dose of humor. His favorite sayings were, “Use it up, wear it out, make it do or do without” and “Nothing comes to stay, it always comes to pass.” But, above all, his deep faith supported him through good times and bad, including his last day when he only let go of this world after receiving a prayer for his soul and his family.

He leaves all these precious memories to our family who survive him: his wife, Donna Jane Murphy Meeks, his daughter, Margie Meeks Lickert (Doug), his son, Gerald Edwin (Jed) Meeks, Jr. (Laura), his grandchildren, Shelby Kastelic (Kevin), Bradshaw Held, Connor Meeks, and Hannah Meeks, his brothers, John Meeks (Sandra) and Paul Meeks (Sharon), and his brother-in-law, Mike Murphy (Sherry).

A private interment was held at a later date and memorials may be sent to a charity of your choice.

Godspeed to our husband, patriarch, brother and friend.

Structure and Standing Rules

Structure & Standing Rules

The Arkansas Conference Standing Rules

Chapter One

GENERAL PROVISIONS

101. Mission

The Mission of the Arkansas Conference is to make disciples of Jesus Christ equipped to transform the world with excellence and passion.

102. Vision

The Vision of the Arkansas Conference is congregations and surrounding communities transformed by the Holy Spirit to demonstrate love of God and neighbor, holy living and justice.

103. Trajectory

The Trajectory of the Arkansas Conference is to create vital congregations that make disciples of Jesus Christ, who make disciples equipped and sent to transform lives, communities and the world.

104. Core Measures

1. We will be enriched by our Wesleyan heritage of scriptural holiness so that we are connected by our mission of making disciples instead of being connected by our apportionments, appointments and benefits.
2. We will establish the mission field as the primary focus of our attention and resources instead of directing the majority of our attention and resources to mere maintenance of congregations and clergy.
3. We will equip laity and clergy to transform individuals, communities and the world instead of trying to satisfy personal preferences of current members and ensure congregational preservation.
4. We will address the unique context of each mission field instead of depending on standardized programs and structures.

105. Establishment of Standing Rules

The Arkansas Annual Conference establishes the Standing Rules under the authority of The Book of Discipline of the United Methodist Church ¶ 610, which permits the Annual Conference to structure its own administrative procedures and ministries in order to accomplish its purpose of making disciples of Jesus Christ for the transformation of the world.

106. Purpose of Standing Rules

The Standing Rules prescribe the administrative procedures the Annual Conference will utilize to carry out its mission, vision, core measures and trajectory.

107. Changes to or Suspension of Standing Rules

A two-thirds (2/3) vote of the Annual Conference members present and voting shall be required to change or suspend the Standing Rules.

Policies and Guidelines

Chapter One
POLICIES GOVERNING LOCAL CHURCHES

Par. 1000 Policy Statement on Misconduct of a Sexual Nature (Adopted by the Annual Conference on June 10, 2004; revised June 14, 2005; updated September 17, 2019, updated June 2022)

Statement of Policy. The Arkansas Conference of The United Methodist church affirms the 2016 Book of Resolutions, #2044, Sexual Abuse Within the Ministerial Relationship, and Resolution #2045, Eradication of Sexual Harassment in the United Methodist Church and Society, which state that sexual abuse within the ministerial relationship and sexual harassment within the church are incompatible with biblical teachings of hospitality, justice, and healing. In accordance with the 2016 Book of Discipline (¶ 161. F) all human beings, both male and female, are created in the image of God, and thus have been made equal in Christ. As the promise of Galatians 3:26-29 states, all are one in Christ, we support equity among all persons without regard to ethnicity, situation, or gender. Sexual abuse within the ministerial relationship occurs when a person within a ministerial role of leadership (pastor, educator, counselor, youth leader or other position of leadership) engages in sexual conduct or sexualized behavior with a congregant, client, employee, student, staff member, co-worker, volunteer, person being counseled or any other person to whom the minister relates in his/her capacity as a minister. Sexual harassment is any unwanted sexual advance or demand, either verbal,or physical, or digitally or electronically engaged that is reasonably perceived by the recipient as demeaning, intimidating, or coercive. Sexual abuse within the ministerial relationship involves a betrayal of sacred trust, a violation of the ministerial role and exploitation of those who are vulnerable. Similarly, sexual harassment must be understood as an exploitation of a power relationship rather than as an exclusively sexual issue. Misconduct of a sexual nature within the life of the church interferes with its moral mission.

The Arkansas Conference of The United Methodist Church stands in opposition to the sin of misconduct of a sexual nature in the Church and society at large and commits itself to fair and expedient investigation of any charge of sexual misconduct within the church. The Conference shall act in compliance with the Book of Discipline. Further, The United Methodist Church bears affirmative responsibility to create an environment of hospitality for all persons, male or female, which is free of misconduct of a sexual nature and encourages respect, equality, and kinship in Christ.

2. Procedures

a. If you experience misconduct

When you experience what you consider to be inappropriate behavior, keep a written record of your experiences including dates, times, places, and witnesses. Keep any written material you may have received from the person. You may wish to confront the person with the inappropriate behavior and demand that it cease.

If you choose not to confront the person alone, you may choose to ask someone to accompany you to confront the person and seek reconciliation.

If you choose not to confront the person, or if the behavior continues, report the incident to the chair of the person's appropriate evaluating committee (e.g., a pastor or church staff member would be reported to the chair of the staff/parish relations committee; a district superintendent to the chair of the committee on superintendency; a bishop to the chair of the committee on episcopacy).

If the conflict is not resolved to your satisfaction, the committee chair shall convene the entire committee to meet with the accused, the person bringing accusations, and each supporting person.

If the situation is not resolved to your satisfaction following these efforts, then follow the Discipline's procedures for grievances, complaints, and charges.

b. If you are told you have been inappropriate

If you are confronted by someone who has experienced or observed inappropriate behavior on your part, listen to the accusation and agree to change the behavior or otherwise resolve the situation and reconcile the relationship.

If you are unable to resolve the situation with your accuser, contact the chair of your appropriate evaluating committee. Ask to meet with your accuser and committee chair to resolve the conflict. The accused and the person bringing the accusation each have the right to bring a supportive person to this meeting.

If the conflict remains unresolved, the committee chair shall convene the entire committee to meet with the accused, the person bringing the accusation, and each supporting person.

c. If someone tells you about inappropriate behavior

If you receive a report of inappropriate behavior, listen seriously and objectively. Help the person follow the steps outlined above.

If you are a clergy/church professional in a paid supervisory position in the local church or a conference agency, and an employee is being harassed, you should immediately take corrective or preventive action.

According to Arkansas law, any person receiving a report concerning a child under the age of 18 or from a child under age 18, indicating sexual abuse of that child, is required to report the abuse to the proper authorities.

Information for clarity

Persons covered by this policy. Church employees, persons seeking employment, volunteers, teachers, all clergy assigned or appointed, and members of the congregation.

Sexual misconduct is a chargeable offense for both members and church professionals. It is the abuse of power and authority. Includes but is not limited to sexual harassment, sexual abuse, the use or possession of pornography, and any form of criminal sexual conduct.

Sexual harassment is “any unwanted sexual comment, advance, or demand, either verbal, physical, or electronically communicated, that is reasonably perceived by the recipient as demeaning, intimidating or coercive. It is unwanted sexual or gender-directed behavior which alters the conditions of employment, volunteer work, or worship experiences by creating a hostile environment that can include unwanted sexual jokes, repeated advance, unwanted touching, displays, or comments which insult, degrade, or sexually exploit any person of any age.

A complaint is a written, dated, and signed statement.

This policy covers all persons employed by the Arkansas Annual Conference, including but not limited to the Bishop, members of the Cabinet, conference and district staff, and retired clergy (local pastors, deacons, elders)

Local congregations are strongly encouraged to adopt the policy and to train the members of the congregation so that it will not be necessary to apply it.

Par. 1001 Vacation Policy for Appointed Personnel (Presented by the Conference Board of Ordained Ministry and adopted by the Annual Conference in June 2010.) It is The United Methodist Church's view that good vacation time benefits ministry. Since pastors are on call 24 hours a day, seven days a week, time away (when the parish is "vacated") can bring renewal and refreshment for the tasks at hand and help prevent burn-out. We recommend the following minimum vacation standards:

1. Each clergy person under appointment by the Bishop of the Arkansas Conference shall be entitled to receive the following minimum vacation time during the course of the Annual Conference year (July 1 – June 30).

a. Those having served full time in The United Methodist Church from the time first appointed to five years: two weeks vacation (2 Sundays).

b. Those having served full time in The United Methodist Church from six years to ten years: three weeks vacation (3 Sundays).

c. Those having served full time in The United Methodist Church for eleven or more years: four weeks vacation (4 Sundays).

2. Vacation time shall be based on the number of years of service under full-time appointment in the ministry of The United Methodist Church (including previous service in diaconal ministry) and not on the number of years of service in a given appointment.

3. Time away from the appointment for participating in continuing education events and experiences shall not be counted as vacation time (see ¶351.2), nor time away from the appointment to attend Annual Conference or other conferences, district, or general church events which the appointee is expected to attend shall be counted as vacation time.

4. Full-time clergy are to receive a minimum of two weeks for continuing education. All part-time clergy are to receive a minimum of one week for continuing education. (This continuing education policy does not apply to pastors who have not completed Course of Study.)

5. The Committee on Pastor/Staff-Parish Relations should also arrange for the clergy person to have one day off each week and to be away from the appointment occasionally for a day or two.

6. In those charges where local pastors have not completed the Course of Study and where clergy are appointed to less than full-time service, including student pastors and part-time local pastors, the minimum vacation time shall be two weeks.

7. Clergy should refrain from taking vacation during the first month of a new appointment. It is also recommended that the first-year vacation be distributed across the year, not taken all at once.

8. The clergy person shall consult with the Pastor/Staff Parish Relations Committee in obtaining vacation supply coverage.

9. The charge shall make available as necessary the funds for pulpit supply while the pastor is on vacation.

Par. 1002 Outdoor Ministries Committee – Standards for Camping and Retreat Centers (This was passed at the 2009 session of the Arkansas Annual Conference.) We recommend that the Arkansas Annual Conference rescind the "Standards for Camping and Retreat Centers" adopted in June 2006 and all previous recommendations of camping standards presented to the conference by this committee. We further recommend that all camps and retreat centers within the Arkansas Annual Conference move toward accreditation through the American Camp Association.

Par. 1003 Salary Arrearage Policy (This Salary Arrearage Policy was adopted by the Annual Conference on June 22, 2014, as presented by the Equitable Compensation Commission.) This applies to all churches and all clergy receiving a salary from a local church. This also includes those receiving equitable compensation funds.

1. In the event that the local church treasurer becomes aware that the church will be unable to provide to the pastor full payment of a regularly scheduled payroll or housing allowance installment, or to remit to the Conference Treasurer full payment for regular direct billed benefit payments such as pension and health care, the church treasurer shall notify within twenty-four hours the Pastor, the Lay Leader, and the Chairs of S/PPRC, Finance, Trustees, the Administrative/Church Council and the Lay Member of the Annual Conference of the impending arrearage. Upon receipt of such notice, the Chair of S/PPRC and/or the Pastor shall within 3 days notify the District Superintendent of the impending arrearage. It is the pastor's responsibility to keep copies of all such written notification and to provide additional written confirmation to the District Superintendent when an arrearage has taken place. Failure to document salary or benefits arrearage may result in a loss of compensation and/or forfeiture of benefits.

2. Upon receipt of notice of a pending arrearage, the Chair of S/PPRC shall within 24 hours convene a meeting of the Pastor, Lay Leader, and Chairs of Finance, Trustees, the Administrative/ChurchCouncil and Lay Member to Annual Conference to discuss the financial situation and seek remedies to prevent an arrearage from occurring. Such remedies might include:

a. Drawing from invested funds,
b. An emergency appeal for special giving from the congregation,
c. Emergency grants or loans from the District or Conference

According to The Book of Discipline ¶624, such remedies cannot include a reduction in the Pastor's compensation until the beginning of the next Conference year.

3. If the local church becomes delinquent in the pastor's compensation (i.e. more than 30 days delinquent), the District Superintendent shall notify the Commission on Equitable Compensation. The District Superintendent may invite the Commission to send a representative from CEC to meet with the local church and pastor to seek resolution of the issue so that the pastor receives full compensation by the end of the conference year.

4. If it is determined that the church is not able to provide the compensation package as voted at Charge Conference, the Chair of S/PPRC shall notify in writing the Pastor and District Superintendent (Arkansas Conference 2013 Journal 482) and request a consultation. Options for addressing the arrearage might include:

a. Develop a payment plan so that the pastor will receive full compensation by the end of the conference Year or

b. A change in pastoral compensation or appointment may be necessary at the beginning of the following Conference year.

c. Requesting an Equitable Compensation Subsidy Grant for the remainder of the appointive year.

5. If the local church is already receiving a subsidy grant from the Commission on Equitable Compensation, the Commission may also:

a. Determine if all subsidy grant funds allocated to the church were used to pay the pastor's salary.

b. Examine the original subsidy grant application to determine if the amount requested to meet minimum compensation was reduced.

c. Require an outside audit of all church funds in compliance with GCFA Guidelines (www.gcfa.org). The District Superintendent shall be notified of its findings and recommendations in writing.

6. If a local church becomes delinquent in the payment of the pastor's direct billed pension, health care and benefits (i.e. more than 30 days delinquent), the Conference Treasurer shall notify the Conference Benefits Officer, the District Superintendent, and the Commission on Equitable Compensation. The Superintendent will work with the CEC and the local church to develop a written payment plan with the local church so that the Conference receives full payment of pension and benefits by the end of the conference year.

7. It is the responsibility of the pastor to provide evidence of an arrearage by providing appropriate documentation.

8. The statute of limitations for filing a claim for funds from the Annual Conference (i.e. notification to the District Superintendent of the arrearage) for any salary arrearage is one year from the date of the initial arrearage. Once an appointment ends the Pastor no longer has a claim on the local church for compensation funds (¶342.4).

Chapter Two
GUIDELINES ESTABLISHED BY THE ANNUAL CONFERENCE

Par. 1100 Parsonage Standards (Presented by the Conference Trustees, and adopted by the Annual Conference on June 10, 2004; updated August 30, 2019)

Philosophy for Parsonage Standards: The Conference affirms the policy of church-owned parsonages as the way to serve the churches in our Conference as it greatly facilitates the itinerant system of clergy appointment. Any exceptions to this policy must have the approval of the bishop and cabinet. Therefore, it is important that local church parsonages across the Conference meet certain standards so that differences in quality, size, and equipment are kept to a minimum. The Discipline is clear concerning the Annual Conference's role in setting parsonage standards and how the parsonage is to be understood by the local church and the clergy and his/her family. The 2016 Book of Discipline states that the Church Council shall "Review the recommendation of the committee on pastor-parish relations regarding the provision of adequate housing for the pastor(s); and report the same to the charge conference for approval. Housing provisions shall comply with Annual Conference housing policy and parsonage standards. Housing shall not be considered as part of compensation or remuneration." ¶252.4e The 2016 Book of Discipline also states that "The chairperson of the board of trustees or the chairperson of the parsonage committee, if one exists, the chairperson of the committee on pastor-parish relations, and the pastor shall make an annual review of the church-owned parsonage to ensure proper maintenance." ¶2533.4 The parsonage is to be mutually respected by the pastor's family as the property of the church and by the church as a place of privacy for the pastor's family.

Guidelines:

1. Bedrooms: There should be at least three bedrooms of standard size with ample closet space in each. It is recommended that one room on the main floor be adaptable to use as a bedroom.

2. Bathrooms: A parsonage should have at least two bathrooms. One could be with shower only, and the one on the main floor should be a combination tub and shower.

3. Kitchen: The minimum kitchen should include: adequate built-in cabinets, sink, stove, automatic refrigerator with frozen storage, garbage disposal (where sewer lines or septic tanks do not make this impossible), dishwasher, good light, and adequate electrical outlets. A breakfast area is desirable. Other appliances shall include a washing machine and clothes dryer (not necessarily in the kitchen area itself). An adequate supply of hot water shall be provided.

4. Living/Dining Areas: Adequate living area for family life and entertaining guests must be provided. Depending upon the needs of the setting this could be a combination of the following rooms/areas: living room, family room, dining room, or a great room.

5. Study: It is preferable for the pastor's office to be in the church buildings. However, the parsonage may be equipped with space for a study. Every parsonage should have adequate bookshelves.

6. Closets: Adequate closet and storage space shall be provided throughout the house.

7. Garage: Two-car garage or carport with storage room for tools and yard equipment shall be provided.

8. Energy Efficiency: It is recommended that conservation of energy be considered when purchasing appliances, when remodeling, and when purchasing a new parsonage.

9. Heating/Cooling: A central heating/cooling system with the capacity to properly heat/cool the entire habitable part of the house and the proper thermostatic controls should be provided. The pastor shall be responsible for changing furnace filters to ensure the safe and efficient operation of the system. The church shall provide all other maintenance of the heating and cooling system.

10. Window Coverings: Appropriate and tasteful curtains, drapes, shades, or other window coverings shall be provided for all rooms of the parsonage. Safe storage of unused window coverings shall be provided by the pastor.

11. Utilities: All utilities shall be provided in the name of the church.
    a. Telephone: At least two phone outlets shall be provided.
    b. Heating/Cooling: Adequate heating/cooling shall be provided. The heating/cooling system shall be maintained by the church and shall be inspected annually with regard to the soundness of heating/cooling exchanger, flue pipes, and chimney condition. If a wood stove and/or fireplace is in use, it too should be checked yearly. An instruction sheet should be posted near the furnace, or in a convenient place, to instruct on the maintenance and care of the furnace. The name of a reputable furnace company to be used should be specified. Suggestion should be made as the maximum/minimum temperatures and to the desirability of closing off unneeded rooms during the heating/cooling season. The pastor is responsible for the furnace filters to be changed at least three times yearly.

12. Insurance: The church is responsible for the payment of insurance for the property. It should include homeowner coverage and shall cover at least eighty percent of the replacement cost of the parsonage and related structures and church-owned furnishings. It is recommended that the pastor obtain coverage to insure the pastor's family furnishings and belongings.

13. Parsonage Furnishings and Equipment: The responsibility of the local church to provide "adequate housing" shall be interpreted by the Arkansas Annual Conference to include furnishings and other equipment. However, it is suggested that one bedroom be left unfurnished in all parsonages. The required items shall include an automatic washer, dryer, refrigerator, cooking stove, dishwasher, garbage disposal (unless septic tanks/inadequate sewer line make this impossible), and lawn mower. As applicable, the local church shall furnish a breakfast table, formal living room furniture, den/family room furniture, bedroom furniture (except as noted above), adequate lamps and lighting, and floor coverings. It is expected that the minister shall provide nonessential items such as a microwave oven, pictures, and accessories. It is permissible, and even encouraged, for the pastor and family to provide personal furnishings, as this is their home. The Pastor shall work with the Parsonage Committee and/or Trustees to provide for safe storage of unused local church-owned furniture.

14. Parsonage Maintenance: Local Church Responsibility

a. The local church board of trustees or elected parsonage committee shall properly maintain an adequate and comfortable home in good condition for the pastor and his/her family. At the convenience of the parsonage family, the chairperson of the Trustees, the chairperson of the Pastor-Parish Relations Committee, and the pastor shall inspect the home to see what needs to be done, if anything, to meet these standards and to take necessary steps to accomplish these improvements. It is recommended that the maintenance of the parsonage should include provision for pest/termite control.

b. The chairperson of the Trustees, the chairperson of the Pastor Parish Relations Committee, and the pastor shall inspect, at least annually, the parsonage and grounds to be familiar with said properties. They shall keep a record of their inspection so that they can take initiative in improving the parsonage and grounds. Each year every local church budget shall include money for maintenance, redecoration, and landscaping of the parsonage.

c. All instruction books and warranties should be kept and the location of the books made known to an incoming pastor. The location of all cutoff valves, meters, water and sewer lines and similar items should be kept on file and should also be made known to an incoming minister. The local church shall inform the pastor of who has keys to the parsonage. These keys are for emergency use only by anyone other than the pastor and his/her family. (See above Philosophy for Parsonage Standards)

15. Parsonage Maintenance: Pastor's Responsibilities: The pastor should care for the parsonage as a good steward of the property, avoiding undue wear and tear. Pets sometimes present special problems. It is the responsibility of the clergy who have pets to inform the appropriate local church officers when moving into the parsonage. Pastors with pets should exercise care so that the parsonage is not abused, including professional pest control for parasites from pets. The pastor is responsible for any damage caused by pets, personal guests, or family members. The pastor's family is responsible for cleaning the parsonage when they move out, including residual tobacco smoke and any odors from pets.

16. Parsonage Grounds: The grounds around the house shall be well drained. The grounds shall be cared for by the parsonage family. If the lawn is unusually large, contains many shrubs, or requires a great deal of time to maintain in keeping with the surrounding neighborhood, the church should consider assisting the pastor with additional help or service. Landscaping and exterior care of the parsonage shall be the responsibility of the local church and shall be such as to be a credit to the church in the community.

17. Mutual responsibility Covenant: it is recommended that the Trustees and/or Pastor-Parish Relations Committee create a written covenant with the pastor, spelling out each party's responsibilities. The Covenant should be reviewed and updated annually. The covenant should include provisions for restoration to original form any personalized decorating on the part of the pastoral family. Redecorating should be done regularly with full consultation with the pastor.

18. Energy Conservation: It is recommended that all parsonages have an energy audit as soon as possible to determine what might be done to make them more energy efficient...weather seals, storm windows and doors, insulation, etc. Many areas have utility companies that will do this for free or for a small fee.

19. Barrier Free Concerns: It is recommended that all parsonages built, or remodeled in the future, consider needs of the physically challenged such as tub bath, at least one bedroom, and preferably laundry be on the main floor, and a limited number of, if any, entry steps.

20. Safety: The parsonage shall contain certain safeguards for the parsonage family's safety. At least two fire extinguishers, one in the house (kitchen?) and one in the garage or utility area, shall be kept in working condition and shall be checked at the annual inspections. Smoke detectors and carbon monoxide detectors shall be provided, at least one on each floor including the basement.

21. Implementation of these Parsonage Standards:

a. Time: These parsonage standards, to go into effect immediately, are adopted for the pastor, local church board of Trustees, Pastor-Parish Relations Committee, and/or Parsonage Committee.

b. All substandard parsonages shall be considered for renovation to conform as nearly as possible to the above standards as soon as possible, but no later than January 1, 2006. District Superintendents shall keep a record of parsonages that are not meeting these guidelines and report annually to the Cabinet.

c. A local church may appoint a Parsonage Committee to work with the Board of Trustees and Pastor-Parish Relations Committee in the implementation of these standards and ongoing oversight and maintenance of the parsonage. The Parsonage Committee membership shall include the Chairperson of the Trustees, the Chairperson of the Pastor-Parish Relations Committee, a minimum of three at-large members elected to three-year terms in classes (with the initial election to be for terms of 1 year, 2 years, and 3 years to establish the classes), and the minister or minister's spouse. The at-large members may not succeed themselves and at least two of the elected members of the committee shall be women.

d. When there is a pastoral change, the house shall be inspected by the Chairpersons of the Trustees and the Pastor-Parish Relations Committee, one other member of the Parsonage Committee, if formed, and the Pastor before the Pastor leaves for his/her new situation, to make a list of needed repairs. These repairs shall be accomplished prior to the arrival of the succeeding pastor. When moving day arrives, a final "walk through" conducted by the pastor with the above persons shall occur for a final assessment. Before a move, the departing pastor shall invite the incoming pastor to see the parsonage. Any redecorating should include consultation with the incoming pastoral family.

e. Housing Allowance/Parsonage: The Annual Conference has confirmed the Parsonage System as the most efficient and effective way of serving the local churches in our Arkansas Conference. In certain special and limited situations, a housing allowance or use of rental property is permissible. A decision to exercise this option shall be made with the approval of the Pastor-Parish Relations Committee, the District Superintendent, the Trustees, and the Pastor. The resulting decision shall then be recommended to the Charge Conference for approval. The decision must also have the approval of the Bishop and cabinet. In order to maintain an open itinerancy system, churches which do not own a parsonage should make provision for a rental deposit/purchase down payment and initial furnishing purchases for any person moved into the appointment.

f. Publicity of Guidelines: Upon adoption, these parsonage standards shall be distributed to all pastors, Chairpersons of local church Board of Trustees, and chairpersons of Pastor Parish RelationsCommittee. The then current parsonage standards will be printed in the Conference Journal once each quadriennium. These standards shall be given to all new pastors and families coming into the conference by the Board of Ordained Ministry.

g. Compliance: The District Superintendent shall ask questions concerning the parsonage and its compliance with the parsonage standards annually at the Charge Conference. If a dispute arises in a local church or between a local church and the pastor, the District Superintendent should be contacted to mediate the issue.

h. Church/Pastor Parsonage Covenant recommendation: The Administrative Board of the Church has the responsibility to provide adequate housing for the Pastor (Discipline ¶251.4e). The Parsonage is to be mutually respected by the Pastor as the property of the Church and by the Church as a place of privacy for the Pastor's family. To facilitate this mutual responsibility we recommend that the Church and the Pastor enter into the following covenant. Both Parties should feel free to perfect this Covenant to meet any other desired or special circumstances. It is important that both parties feel satisfied with and responsible for the Covenant.

Par. 1101 Safe Sanctuary Policy Recommendation. (This recommendation was adopted by the Annual Conference, Sunday, June 22, 2014).

Whereas, Jesus said, "Whoever welcomes [a] child… welcomes me" (Matthew 18:5). Children are our present and our future, our hope, our teachers, our inspiration. They are full participants in the life of the church and in the realm of God. God calls us to make our churches safe places, protecting children and other vulnerable persons from abuse. God calls us to create communities of faith where children and adults grow safe and strong. (Adapted from The Book of Resolutions of the United Methodist Church, 2008.)

Therefore, the Arkansas Conference of the United Methodist Church hereby pledges to conduct the ministry of Jesus Christ in ways that promote the physical and emotional safety and spiritual growth of our children, youth and our workers with children and youth. In all of our ministries with children and youth, this congregation is committed to demonstrating the love of Jesus Christ so that each child and youth will be "surrounded by steadfast love… established in the faith and confirmed and strengthened in the way that leads to life eternal." (Baptismal Covenant II, United Methodist Book of Worship, p. 96).

Therefore, we will follow reasonable safety measures when selecting and recruiting workers; we will implement prudent operational procedures in all areas of programming and care; we will train our workers with children and youth on our procedures and policies; and we will have a clearly defined procedure for reporting reasonably suspected incidents of child maltreatment that conforms to the requirements of Arkansas law.

Therefore, recognizing that the programs, needs and resources of local congregations vary significantly and therefore local policies and procedures will and should differ, when local churches are developing Safe Sanctuaries guidelines, it is recommended that they:

1. Develop and implement an ongoing education plan for the congregation and its leaders on the reality of child abuse, risk factors leading to child abuse, and strategies for prevention;
2. Adopt screening procedures (use of application forms, interviews, reference checks, background clearance, and so forth) for workers (paid and unpaid) directly or indirectly involved in the care of children and youth;
3. Develop and implement safety procedures for church activities such as having two or more non-related adults present in classroom or activity; leaving doors open and installing half-doors or windows in doors or halls; providing hall monitors; instituting sign-in and sign-out procedures for children ages ten or younger; and so forth;
4. Advise children and young persons of an agency or a person outside as well as within the local church whom they can contact for advice and help if they have suffered abuse;
5. Carry liability insurance that includes sexual abuse coverage;
6. Assist the development of awareness and self-protection skills for children and youth through special curriculum and activities; and
7. Be familiar with annual conference and other church policies regarding clergy sexual misconduct.

Par.1102 Copyright Guidelines for Churches

Disclaimer: The information provided in these guidelines is for information purposes only. It does not constitute legal advice. In the development of the guidelines, certain assumptions have been made about underlying practices and uses of intellectual property. Any change in those assumptions could affect the application of a particular guideline or recommended best practice. Therefore, while the information provided may assist a local church, it is not a substitute either for legal advice by an attorney with knowledge of copyright law or the written approval of specific copyright holders. If there is any doubt as to whether a specific use or practice violates copyright laws, the local church should seek the written advice of a lawyer or specific written approval of the particular use by the copyright holder or licensing agent. Further, the local church should maintain a copyright file that contains all written advice obtained from an attorney(s), all licenses/permissions for use of works, and records of any payments made to licensors or owners of copyrighted works.

Overview of United States Copyright Law:

Copyright protection extends to "original works of authorship fixed in any tangible medium of expression, now known or later developed, from which they can be perceived, reproduced, or otherwise communicated, either directly or with the aid of a machine or device." 17 U.S.C. § 102(a). A copyright does not require registration. A copyright in a work arises from the moment an original work of authorship is fixed in the tangible medium (e.g., when pencil touches paper). Section 102 further provides that "[w]orks of authorship include the following categories:

(1) literary works;
(2) musical works, including any accompanying words;
(3) dramatic works, including any accompanying music;
(4) pantomimes and choreographic works;
(5) pictorial, graphic and sculptural works;

(6) motion pictures and other audiovisual works;
(7) sound recordings; and
(8) architectural works."

Copyright protection may extend to compilations and derivative works that are lawfully created. 17 U.S.C. § 106. The owner of a copyright "has the exclusive rights to do and to authorize any of the following:

(1) to reproduce the copyrighted work in copies or phonorecords;
(2) to prepare derivative works based upon the copyrighted work;
(3) to distribute copies or phonorecords of the copyrighted work to the public by sale or other transfer of ownership, or by rental, lease, or lending;
(4) in the case of literary, musical, dramatic, and choreographic works, pantomimes, and motion pictures and other audiovisual works, to perform the copyrighted work publicly;
(5) in the case of literary, musical, dramatic, and choreographic works, pantomimes, and pictorial, graphic, or sculptural works, including the individual images of a motion picture or other audiovisual work, to display the copyrighted work publicly; and
(6) in the case of sound recordings, to perform the copyrighted work publicly by means of a digital audio transmission."

Infringement occurs when you violate one or more of the exclusive rights of a copyright owner. Infringement is a serious matter that may result in a claim of copyright infringement against the person who violates the exclusive rights, as well as against the local church. Remedies for infringement include actual damages, profits of the infringer, or, alternatively, statutory damages. 17 U.S.C. § 504. With certain caveats or exceptions, a copyright owner may elect statutory damages instead of actual damages or profits of the infringer (which is especially applicable in cases where there is no actual damage or profit from the infringement) in a range of not less than $750 to no more than $30,000 per work "as the court considers just." 17 U.S.C. § 504(c)(1). Statutory damages may be increased to no more than $150,000 per work if the infringer's conduct was willful. 17 U.S.C. § 504(c)(2).

When in doubt about whether a work is copyrighted or whether a particular use would constitute infringement, the church should always seek appropriate advice.

Licenses:

One means to comply with federal law and avoid a claim for copyright infringement is to obtain a license from the owner, or from a representative of the owner, of the work you want to use. This is the best practice and is strongly recommended. Although there are a variety of representatives of copyright owners, well-known licensing companies include, but are not limited to, CCLI (Christian Copyright Licensing, Inc.), CVLI (Christian Video Licensing International), ASCAP, BMI, SESAC, WorshipCast, OneLicense, Christian Copyright Solutions, and LicenSing. There are basic licenses that fit most churches' use of copyrighted materials, and there are a number of supplemental licenses for particular uses such as rehearsal licensing, live streaming, podcasts, videos, and use of video clips. For musical works, it is important to remember that you will need a license to both the musical composition (the notes on the page) and the lyrics. You also should confirm that the songs or videos are within the catalog of works covered by each license. If they are not, then the church should obtain written permission from the copyright holder. Churches should consult with licensing companies concerning the scope of use covered by various licenses and concerning particular practices and uses of copyrighted materials to avoid inadvertent copyright infringement.

Pricing for licenses varies by work. For example, the cost of a license from OneLicense is based upon average weekly attendance of the church. One-time use, weekly use, and annual licenses are available. Reporting usage of a song to the licensing company is required in accordance with the requirements of the license. It is important to keep good records of the use of the works in order to be accurate in your licensing payments and minimize any claims by the copyright holder or its representatives that you have not paid sufficient amounts.

Written Permission:

Written permission from a copyright holder gives a local church protection. This is particularly helpful when the intended use of copyrighted material is not clearly within the scope of a license. As indicated above, any written permission obtained from a copyright holder should be maintained in a copyright folder by the church.

Public Domain:

Intellectual property that is in the public domain is not subject to copyright infringement.

Public domain status is usually indicated on the face of sheet music or on a CD jacket. A church should not assume that intellectual property is in the public domain simply because copyright information is not on the face of the work. In addition, the fact that one version of a work is in the public domain does not mean that a new copyrighted arrangement of the work can be used without a license or written permission from the copyright holder.

Fair Use:

Although rarely available in a church setting, the fair use exception found in 17 U.S.C. § 107 may be available when a church, including a Sunday school class, uses a copyrighted work or a part thereof for teaching or comment, including in a documentary. The teaching exception in 17 U.S.C. § 110(2) may also be helpful to Sunday school classes. In the educational context, the U.S. Copyright Office has published an advisory circular containing guidelines for fair uses of copyrighted works in educational settings. It is available at http://www.copyright.gov/circs/circ21.pdf. A group cannot use the fair use doctrine to edit or redact copyrighted materials to remove portions to which it objects even if it sells the edited version with the original version. Fair use is a factual determination that includes, but is not limited to, the following factors:

(1) the purpose and character of the use, including whether such use is of a commercial nature or is for nonprofit educational purposes;

(2) the nature of the copyrighted work;

(3) the amount and substantiality of the portion used in relation to the copyrighted work as a whole; and

(4) the effect of the use upon the potential market for or value of the copyrighted work.

It is important to recognize that a work is not freely available for copying simply because it is out of print. The same factors for fair use apply to determine whether such work may be copied and the amount of the portion copied.

Religious Worship Service Exemption:

17 U.S.C. § 110(3) provides a limited exemption for the “performance of a nondramatic literary or musical work or of a dramatico-musical work of a religious nature, or display of a work, in the course of services at a place of worship or other religious assembly." This exception does not extend to broadcasting (by radio or television), webcasting, live-streaming, podcasting, or recording of the parts of worship services that include copyrighted works, all of which require a license or the written permission of the copyright holder. For this reason, some churches limit their broadcasts of worship services to those parts of the service that do not contain copyrighted works.

Hymnals:

Hymnals are also copyrighted, and there are limitations on how the copyrighted information may be used, even if your church has purchased the hymnals. Hymns that are listed in the hymnal as being in the public domain may be reproduced without permission. Lyrics from copyrighted hymns may be reproduced in the worship bulletin as long as the church has published hymnals for the congregation and as long as the reprinting is done in accordance with the requirements of the copyright in the hymnal. One typical requirement is to properly note the copyright information in the bulletin. Consult the hymnal and any related license for proper use of the copyrighted songs in a hymnal.

Worship:

A. Music performed by choir

A choir may only use legal copies of copyrighted music. The music may not be copied to make additional copies for practice or teaching by staff or members of the choir. One exception is that musicians are allowed to make copies of pages of music to avoid page turning.

If a publisher lists a copyrighted work as "out of print," the publisher should be contacted for permission to make copies and to possibly negotiate a reduced fee.

If a choir director or musician desires to create a different arrangement of copyrighted music, written permission should be obtained from the copyright holder.

B. Music performed by organist

The requirements in Part A of this section apply. One possible exception is that an organist or other musician may make copies of a legally purchased work to avoid having to turn pages during a performance.

C. Music performed by guest performers or musicians

The requirements in Parts A and B of this section apply.

D. Lyrics projected on screen during worship

Section 110(3) of the Copyright Act permits the display of a literary or musical work in the course of services at a place of worship or other religious assembly. This display does not include the right to record (via cell phone, video, or otherwise) the projection of the literary or musical work.

Best Practice: Obtain a license that permits such use or obtain written permission from the copyright holder.

E. Lyrics printed in bulletin

See the discussion above regarding the use of songs that appear in hymnals purchased by the church. Lyrics that appear in hymnals or other works legally purchased may be used in accordance with the requirements and conditions set out in the works. Typically, a specified copyright reference is required. If other lyrics are used in a bulletin, they may only be printed with written permission of the copyright holder or a license.

F. Live-streaming of worship music

Either written permission from the copyright holder or a license is required. The same is true for podcasting. Otherwise, these uses constitute copyright infringement. Christian Copyright Solutions offers a WORSHIPcase license that applies to every song that is licensed by ASCAP, BMI or SESAC. CCLI also offers a streaming/podcasting license.

G. Recording of music in worship for later video broadcast

Either written permission from the copyright holder or a license is required. Otherwise, this practice constitutes copyright infringement.

H. Recording of performances in worship on CDs or DVDs

Either written permission from the copyright holder or a license is required. Otherwise,this practice constitutes copyright infringement. There may be additional restrictions if the CDs or DVDs are sold to raise funds unless the proceeds are used solely for the church's ministry. The church should contact its license provider for guidance.

I. Recording children's choir performances and uploading the recordings to Facebook, YouTube, or similar social media

Either written permission from the copyright holder or a license is required. Otherwise,this practice constitutes copyright infringement. If the person making this recording is not an employee or staff member of the church, then any infringement is arguably the individual liability of the person making the recording and not the church, although there may be an argument that the person was acting on behalf of the church. To avoid any liability, the church should not make use of unauthorized recordings and should communicate to the church membership that the church is not authorizing the recordings.

J. Use of copyrighted art, graphics, or written works in bulletin

Either written permission from the copyright holder or a license is required. Otherwise, this practice constitutes copyright infringement.

K. Use of video clips

Either written permission from the copyright holder or a license is required. Otherwise, the use constitutes copyright infringement. CCLI has a specific license known as ScreenVue for this use.

L. Pastor's use of copyrighted material in sermon

Reading a copyrighted poem, an excerpt from a copyrighted book, or a copyrighted quotation as a part of a sermon in a worship space for a worshiping congregation may be permitted under the religious service exemption. However, it appears to be clear that printing or recording a sermon that contains such copyrighted materials is a violation of the copyright laws unless the use meets the fair use exception discussed above.
Best Practice: Obtain a license that permits such use or obtain written permission from the copyright holder.

Sunday School:

A. Use of music

Either written permission from the copyright holder or a license is required. Otherwise, this practice constitutes copyright infringement. Simply playing legally purchased CDs or other recordings in a Sunday school class is likely authorized by the copyright permissions provided in the CD case, but the church should comply with any limitations or conditions set forth in the case.

B. Use of videos

The requirements of Part A of this section apply. However, if a video is labeled "For In-Home Viewing" or some similar warning, public showing of the video, even in Sunday school classes, is not permitted. Carefully read the copyright information on the video case or at the beginning of the video to ascertain the permitted uses.
C. Use of articles or pictures as teaching aids

There should be no copyright infringement if the articles or pictures used are legally purchased and are not reproduced.

Youth Activities:

A. Use of music

Either written permission from the copyright holder or a license is required. Otherwise, this practice constitutes copyright infringement. Simply playing legally purchased CDs or other recordings in a Youth Activity is likely authorized by the copyright permissions provided in the CD case, but the church should comply with any limitations or conditions set forth in the case.

B. Use of videos

The requirements of Part A of this section apply. However, if a video is labeled "For In-Home Viewing" or some similar warning, public showing of the video, even at a youth activity, is not permitted. Carefully read the copyright information on the video case or at the beginning of the video to ascertain the permitted uses.

C. Syncing songs to youth videos

Either written permission from the copyright holder or a license is required. Permission to synchronize copyrighted music is difficult to secure. Copyrighted music may have already been licensed for this use or may be available for license on the internet, and that option should be explored. Open Sound Resource and Magna Tune may be helpful resources for this purpose. Syncing of songs to videos is common on YouTube and Vimeo (see, e.g., http://ultimateclassicrock.com/peanuts-classic-rock/), but youth groups should exercise caution and seek permission before using a copyrighted work.

D. Use of copyrighted works in social media

Either written permission from the copyright holder or a license is required.

Choir:

A. Photocopying of copyrighted work

This is prohibited without written permission by the copyright holder. As noted above in Worship, Part A, however, there is a procedure for obtaining permission for reproducing copies of copyrighted works that are "out of print."

B. Performing music outside of worship services, including recitals and concerts

Either a license or written permission from the copyright holder is required. However, limited permission may already be granted in the copyright information on the face of legally purchased copies of the music. In such cases, the terms of the pre-approval should be followed, which will likely include printing or displaying the appropriate copyright information concerning the work.

C. Recording choir performances

Either a license or written permission from the copyright holder is required. Otherwise, the recording constitutes copyright infringement.

D. Making CDs or DVDs of performances

Either a license or written permission from the copyright holder is required. Otherwise, this practice constitutes copyright infringement.

E. Making rehearsal tape

Either a license or written permission from the copyright holder is required. Otherwise, this practice constitutes copyright infringement. However, some choral works come with optional rehearsal recordings that can be used as provided in the copyright provisions. However, additional copies cannot be made.

Other Issues:

A. Movie Nights

Either written permission from the copyright holder or a license is required, regardless of whether there is a charge for viewing the movie. In addition to the licensing companies noted above in the section on Licenses, a license to show a motion picture can be obtained from the Motion Picture Licensing

Corporation (www.mplc.com).

B. Dinner Theaters

Either written permission from the copyright holder or a license is required, regardless of whether there is a charge for the dinner theater.

C. Church websites

Any use of copyrighted material on a church website requires either written permission from the copyright holder or a license.

D. Conferences/Seminars/Retreats

Either written permission from the copyright holder or a license is required. The copyright provisions of legally purchased works may provide a limited performance right.

E. Funerals

Either written permission from the copyright holder or a license is required. The copyright provisions of legally purchased works may provide a limited performance right.

F. Weddings

Either written permission from the copyright holder or a license is required. The copyright provisions of legally purchased works may provide a limited performance right.

G. Newsletters

Any use of copyrighted material in a newsletter requires either written permission from the copyright holder or a license.

H. Church signs containing copyrighted statements, quotations, or photos

Any use of copyrighted material on church signage requires either written permission from the copyright holder or a license.

I. Artwork

A copyrighted image should not be used without permission from the copyright holder or a license.

J. Telephone recordings

Pre-programmed telephone recordings that include copyrighted work but which are part of the telephone voice-mail system are assumed to be authorized for use by the purchaser. However, it is prudent to read the information provided by the seller of the voice-mail system to confirm that authorization and to ensure that the agreement with the seller includes an indemnification clause to cover any infringement that may occur via the telephone system. Copying a song to create a ringtone does constitute copyright infringement. However, playing a ringtone in public - i.e., its normal function

- has been found to be exempt from copyright infringement and no public performance license is required.

K. Zumba, Exercise Classes, Etc.

A performance license is required, usually from ASCAP, BMI, SESAC, or from an agent for those companies (such as CCS's PERFORMmusic). However, a license may not be required for Zumba original music if the church or an authorized staff person is a part of the Zumba Instructor Network.

Arkansas Conference Procedure for the Reaffiliation of a Local Church into the Arkansas Conference of The United Methodist Church

Effective June 20, 2024

With a spirit of grace, we welcome those churches which have disaffiliated or withdrawn to rejoin The United Methodist Church. Where applicable, every annual conference shall have a policy of reaffiliation for the churches seeking to return to the connection. Each such policy shall require that reaffiliating churches affirm their commitment to the Trust Clause in ¶2503. (¶2554, as enacted at the 2020 General Conference)

Anticipating that there may be churches that disaffiliated under ¶2553 who later wish to reunite with the Arkansas Conference of The United Methodist Church (Arkansas Conference), the Arkansas Conference Trustees and Cabinet jointly present to the 2024 Arkansas Annual Conference for adoption this document outlining the procedures by which such churches may reaffiliate with the denomination.

1. Eligibility for Reaffiliation

A local church that was previously affiliated with the Arkansas Conference is eligible for reaffiliation with the Arkansas Conference upon compliance with the following minimum requirements. Churches desiring to reaffiliate must:

- ...satisfy the Conference Trustees that all church deeds include the trust clause required by The Book of Discipline, and cover all real and personal, tangible and intangible properties of the church.
- ...satisfy the Conference Trustees that they comply with the requirements of the Arkansas Conference for the organization of a local United Methodist Church under part 4 of ¶259 of The Book of Discipline.

2. Local Church Discernment

The leaders of a local church that may wish to reaffiliate should first contact the District Superintendent (DS) of the area in which it is located to share their interest. The DS and at least one Conference Trustee will meet with the leaders of the local congregation to understand the reasons for the local church's current desire to reaffiliate with the ARUMC, and to help the church discern if it desires to reaffiliate. A review of key sections of the Book of Discipline is encouraged, including our Doctrinal Statements, The General Rules, The Ministry of All Christians, and the section on the Local Church, and the revised social principles.

As part of their discernment, the local church leaders will put in writing to the DS a rationale for why they want to reaffiliate with The United Methodist Church (UMC). This written statement should clearly express both their understanding of what it means to be a United Methodist Congregation and their willingness to support the UMC and the Arkansas Conference with their prayers, presence, gifts, service, and witness.

The DS will forward the written request and rationale to the Cabinet, or other Cabinet designated committee, for review. If the written work is deemed satisfactory, the District Superintendent will be authorized to work with the local church leaders to establish a timeline for the following required church votes.

3. Local Church Vote to Re-affiliate

The legally authorized leadership body of the local church, at a duly called meeting of such body, must adopt by appropriate legal vote the following resolution requesting reaffiliation and acknowledging the applicability of the trust clause:

"Resolved that .....Church become a member congregation of The Arkansas Conference of the United Methodist Church and thereby become subject to all provisions of The Book of Discipline, including but not limited to the provisions of Paragraphs 2501 through 2505, providing that all local church's real and personal property shall be held in trust for The United Methodist Church. Our leadership is authorized to take all actions necessary to implement this resolution in accordance with The Book of Discipline, by a deed including the relevant trust clause language as found in Par.2503 of the 2016 Book of Discipline or equivalent paragraph in subsequent Books of Discipline."

Upon adoption of the resolution, the presiding officer of the meeting and its secretary will sign a document (e.g., the minutes of the meeting) setting forth the resolution adopted and the vote by which it was adopted and submit it to the District Superintendent in charge.

4. Approval of Local Church Membership

After the local church leadership body has met the foregoing requirements, the membership of the local church, at a duly called church meeting open to all church members, must adopt, by a two-thirds majority vote of the members present, the same resolution previously adopted by the leadership body as required in paragraph (2) above. Upon adoption of the resolution the presiding officer of the membership meeting and its secretary must sign a document (e.g., the minutes of the meeting) setting forth the resolution in charge. If approved, the DS will work with the church leadership to begin making any church organizational changes needed to align with Disciplinary options.

5. Annual Conference Approval

After the local church has met the foregoing requirements, the DS in charge shall return to the Bishop, the Cabinet, and the Conference Trustees for final majority approval of each body. At the next regular session of the Arkansas Conference, the request for reaffiliation will be presented during the Conference Trustees report to the Annual Conference members, who by simple majority may vote to receive the church into the Arkansas Conference.

6. Completion of Reaffiliation Process

The local church shall have 90 days following the close of the regular session of the Arkansas Annual Conference to present revised deeds to the Conference Trustees in order for the reaffiliation process to be completed. The local church shall be responsible for any and all costs associated with revising their deeds. The Conference Trustees will forward a Reaffiliation Certificate to the local church upon receipt of all required documents.

Clergy Couples Housing Policy

Arkansas Annual Conference

Revised June 1, 2023 (updated September 17, 2019)

1. It is the policy of the Arkansas Annual Conference that the normal provision of housing for full-time clergy should be a church-owned parsonage.
2. When a housing allowance is provided in lieu of a parsonage, it is a benefit like a parsonage, provided for the family unit.
3. Clergy couples share one housing benefit since it is not compensation. However, the two charges to which the clergy are appointed may share the cost of this benefit.
4. For two charges with parsonages, the couple will have the option of living in one parsonage. The District Superintendent will determine, in consultation with the clergy and the Staff/Pastor-Parish Relations Committees of the two charges, which parsonage should be the residence for the clergy couple. If the second charge keeps the parsonage furnished, maintained, and empty for a pastor, it shouldn't have to share in the cost of the first parsonage. However, the clergy couple should only have to pay utilities in the parsonage they are living in, even if they might occasionally stay at the second parsonage.
5. For two charges with housing allowances, the charges together should provide the benefit at negotiated levels, each paying an appropriate percentage. The District Superintendent will negotiate this amount with the charges during the appointment process. The couple should not get a double housing allowance, because anything over a reasonable amount for housing constitutes additional compensation.
6. If both charges have parsonages, the charge where the couple does not live may rent the parsonage. Because they are producing income off of a benefit, that charge should pay the charge that is providing the parsonage a negotiated amount for upkeep of the benefit to the clergy. Selling the second parsonage is discouraged unless at least 20% of the proceeds is held in an account for a down payment on a new parsonage when one is needed.
7. If one charge provides a parsonage and the other a housing allowance, the usual practice should be for the couple to live in the parsonage, assuming the parsonage is adequate to conference standards. The charge with the housing allowance should pay half of the normal housing allowance to the charge with the parsonage to balance the cost of providing the benefit.
8. Because housing is a benefit, exchange of money to recompense parsonage expenses (repairs, maintenance, remodel) should be made directly to the charge providing the parsonage. To pay the clergy person directly constitutes additional compensation, since the benefit is already being provided.
9. Charges with clergy couples should be mindful that appointments are not permanent, and that they may have to return to full payment for benefit packages if their next appointed clergy is not part of a couple. Therefore, churches with clergy couples are encouraged to keep full benefit packages in their budgets or set aside money for an eventual return to full benefit expenses.

Parsonage Guidelines During A Pastoral Change Policy

Revised 4/27/2020

"When there is a Pastoral Change, the house shall be inspected by the Chairpersons of the Trustees and the Pastor Parish Relations Committee, one other member of the Parsonage Committee, if formed, and the Pastor before the Pastor leaves for his/her new situation, to make a list of needed repairs. These repairs shall be accomplished prior to the arrival of the succeeding pastor. When moving day arrives, a final "walk through" conducted by the pastor with the above persons shall occur for a final assessment. Before a move, the departing pastor shall invite the incoming pastor to see the parsonage. Any redecorating should include consultation with the incoming pastoral family."

Actions to be Completed during the Pastoral Transition

1. The Cabinet will establish the official Arkansas Annual Conference moving date annually.
2. The Parsonage Committee/ Board of Trustees will make arrangements with the departing pastor for the incoming pastor to conduct a 'walk-through' visit of the parsonage as soon as possible after the appointment change has been announced.
3. The departing pastor and Parsonage Committee/Board of Trustees will jointly make a list of needed maintenance and repairs, furnishings that should be supplied and necessary upgrades to bring the house into compliance with annual conference parsonage standards. This meeting should be held as soon as possible after the appointment change has been announced so work can be completed prior to moving day.
4. The Parsonage Committee/Board of Trustees will identify any "biohazard" issue that may exist in the parsonage (such as the presence of mold or lead paint) and come up with a plan to rectify the situation as quickly as possible.
5. The responsibilities of the outgoing parsonage family at the time of a move shall include:
   a. Removal of all personal property from the parsonage building and grounds
   b. Leaving the house clean, particularly appliances, closets, cabinets, bathrooms, and storage areas.
   c. Removal or arrangements for removal of all trash and discarded items.
   d. Sanitization of the parsonage for pet odors and treatment for fleas.
   e. Collection of all parsonage keys and transfer of same to the incoming family, being certain that all are clearly labeled.
6. The responsibilities of the church/charge at the time of an appointment change shall include:
   a. Washing curtains, dry cleaning draperies and window coverings (if provided) or replacing as needed, and washing all windows, inside and out.
   b. Cleaning all rugs and carpets (if provided), cleaning and disinfecting laminate, tile and vinyl floors and cleaning (or refinishing as needed) hardwood floors.
   c. Ensuring that all appliances, cabinets, sinks and countertops have been cleaned and disinfected.
   d. Ensuring that all smoke detectors, carbon monoxide detectors, and fire extinguishers operate as designed and have been inspected and/or serviced annually or as required.
   e. Ascertaining that the parsonage is left clean and all personal property of the previous pastor and other items not needed by the incoming pastor have been removed prior to arrival of the incoming parsonage family.
7. The Parsonage Committee/Board of Trustees will take photos to document any excessive damage caused by the pastoral family beyond 'normal wear and tear'. The Parsonage Committee/Board of Trustees may request a 2016 Parsonage Damage Report form from District Superintendent if damage exceeds ‘normal wear and tear’.

8. The Staff Parish Relations Committee will confirm the date the departing pastor will move, determine any special assistance the incoming pastor may need during the moving process, and coordinate housing needs if the incoming pastoral family cannot move into the parsonage because of incomplete maintenance, repairs and upgrades.
9. The Parsonage Committee/Board of Trustees and Staff Parish Relations Committee will conduct a final walk-through prior to the outgoing pastor’s departure.
10. The Parsonage Committee/Board of Trustees should develop a clear understanding with the incoming pastor concerning pets, special accommodations and any maintenance responsibilities of the pastor.
11. The departing pastor may submit a voucher for allowable reimbursable moving expenses as determined by Annual Conference policy. The Staff Parish Relations Committee Chair and the District Superintendent must sign the voucher before it may be submitted to the Center for Administrative Services.
12. If the departing pastor vacates a parsonage with damage beyond ‘normal wear and tear’, the Staff Parish Relations Committee may request the District Superintendent to allocate moving expenses up to the allowable limit for any needed repairs.

Bishop Laura Merrill, Presiding

Rev. Dr. Candace Barron, Secretary

Call to Order - Bishop Merrill
I'm grateful to have a brief time of worship to open our time today, with voices from churches that have experienced the pain of disaffiliation but who have also discerned God's call upon them to live as United Methodists. The folks whom we will hear represent many, many others across this conference, and we want to say today that we see you, and we hear you. I thank God for your faithfulness. Let's worship now together.

Opening Worship -
Choir recording from Cabot UMC Sunday Morning Worship
Prayers from Revs. Jennie Williams and Terrie Lynn Bunnell

Opening remarks from Bishop Merrill:

Friends, thank you for gathering this afternoon in this way. I know it takes a different kind of preparation to attend a virtual meeting, and it may not be the easiest or most natural thing to do. I hope the effort is no more than if we'd all had to drive to Hot Springs or somewhere else, and the cost is far less. In any case, I'm glad you're here.

We can see where we stand today at the end of this particular chapter. It is not a happy day, but a day we must reach. And that's because we have spent enough time managing division and officiating conflict. That's not what I moved to Arkansas to do, not for the long run. That's not what your leaders were put in place to do and not what I believe God intends as our primary task as followers of Jesus Christ.

So it's time. It is time to move toward the finish and do our work today with our eyes trained on what God is ready to do through us. Keeping our eyes on that far point will help us navigate what lies directly in front of us.

To frame our time, I want to read part of one of the lectionary texts for today, from Paul's letter to the Philippians.

Philippians
4:4 Rejoice in the Lord always; again, I will say, Rejoice.
4:5 Let your gentleness be known to everyone. The Lord is near.
4:6 Do not worry about anything, but in everything by prayer and supplication with thanksgiving, let your requests be made known to God.
4:7 And the peace of God, which surpasses all understanding, will guard your hearts and your minds in Christ Jesus.
4:8 Finally, beloved, whatever is true, whatever is honorable, whatever is just, whatever is pure, whatever is pleasing, whatever is commendable, if there is any excellence and if there is anything worthy of praise, think about these things.

4:9 Keep on doing the things that you have learned and received and heard and seen in me, and the God of peace will be with you.

This is the word of God for us today—thanks be to God.

I want to invite Rev. Edna Hargraves, pastor of First UMC in McGehee, to offer a prayer for us.

Rev. Edna Hardgraves prayed for the conference.

Instructions from Rev. Dr. Candace Barron:
Good afternoon. My name is Candace Barron, and I am honored to serve as your Conference Secretary. As part of my role and in preparation for today's meeting, I want to share with you information about how you can participate in today's deliberations should you desire to do so.

In this webinar, the chat and raised hand features have been disabled, but the Q&A feature is available to all and will serve as the equivalent of a floor mic if this is an in-person meeting. You can find the Q&A function at the bottom of your screen, though you may need to move your cursor there first to see it.

Remember: the Q&A feature will be used as you would a floor microphone. It is not a chat and should not be used for personal comments or unauthorized speeches. If you have a technical or procedural question, please feel free to use the Q&A anytime. If appropriate, one of our support persons may provide you with an answer online. If the bishop believes it will be helpful for the entire body, she may share the question with the body and ask someone to provide the answer.

If you would like to be recognized by the bishop to ask a point of information, offer an amendment, or make a speech for or against a motion, you must clearly state your request in the Q&A. Include your name, designation as clergy or laity, and the local church you represent with ALL submissions. A sample format can be found in the Q/A.

Your request will be noted and shared with the Bishop. Q&A requests for recognition will be considered at the bishop's discretion and are only properly before the body if the bishop recognizes them.

If the bishop recognizes you, you will be admitted to the webinar as a speaker. Please remain patient, as this process may take a few seconds, and be sure to turn on your video and unmute yourself so you can be both seen and heard by all on this webinar.

If you offer an amendment, note that our session rules, if adopted, will require that all motions or amendments made virtually be placed in the Q&A before a vote occurs.

Todd Burris explained who can vote and why. He gave voting instructions for using the Zoom poll feature.

Organization of the Conference: Rev. Dr. Candace Barron
I'd like to advise you that the meeting is being live-streamed. I'd like to acknowledge the following people from the Conference Staff who provided technical support and assistance and were present during this meeting: Danielle Adkisson, Sara Andrews, Christina Choh, Day Davis, Palmer Lee, Melissa Sanders, Todd Burris, and Amy Ezell.

The organization and session rules were placed online for you to review before this meeting, and you should already have access to them. I would like to highlight two points in the organization rules:

I. Information About Today's Special Session of the Arkansas Conference
   A. This Special Session of the Arkansas Conference has been called in accordance with ¶603.5 of The 2016 Book of Discipline of the United Methodist Church to address only the following non-amendable issue:
   B. The consideration of ratification of disaffiliation agreements from the Conference Board of Trustees with various congregations of the Arkansas Conference of the United Methodist Church, in accordance with ¶2553 of The 2016 Book of Discipline of the United Methodist Church, the Principles adopted at the 2021 Arkansas Annual Conference Session and Judicial Council Decision 1379.
   C. Members will participate by logging in through an online Zoom platform consistent with Arkansas Act 253 of 2021, allowing for remote meetings. For all purposes, this online meeting is deemed to be the equivalent of an in-person meeting.
   D. Members of the Arkansas Conference, with the right to vote, include all:
      1. clergy members in full connection;
      2. provisional, associate, and affiliate clergy members;
      3. full and part-time local pastors under appointment;
      4. elders or ordained clergy from other denominations serving under appointment within the Arkansas Conference;
      5. those lay members or alternates who were last seated at the June 2023 Annual Conference Session, or laity duly elected by their charge conference if needed to replace a lay member or alternate who is unable to attend because of death, serious illness, or cessation of membership, as provided by ¶602.5 of The 2016 Book of Discipline of the United Methodist Church;

Those present virtually will be counted by electronic log-in and are deemed to be present for the meeting for purposes of meeting a quorum.
   G. The meeting will be conducted so that all members are afforded a reasonable opportunity to hear the discussion simultaneously. All members will have the right and be afforded to speak and address those in attendance. All those with the right to vote will be able to vote on all matters submitted during the meeting.
   H. To facilitate virtual participation, the Q&A feature of Zoom will serve as the equivalent of being in line at a floor mic.
   I. To maintain an open meeting, the Annual Conference meeting will be live-streamed but unavailable for playback.

I. Session Rules of Order - Vote Required
   A. The Session Rules of the Special Session of the Arkansas Conference will be those adopted at the opening of the October 15, 2023, Special Session of the Arkansas Annual Conference.

B. The Bar of the Conference shall be all eligible lay and clergy members of the Arkansas Annual Conference who log in through the Zoom login information provided by the Arkansas Conference office.
C. The agenda as adopted will be used.
D. Persons seeking to offer motions or amendments must first indicate such in the Q&A and then be recognized by the Bishop. All motions made virtually must be placed in the Q&A before a vote occurs.
E. Robert's Rules of Order 12th Edition will be the procedural authority for all business conducted by the Special Session of the Arkansas Conference when not in conflict with Arkansas Conference Session Rules, Arkansas Conference Standing Rules, or The 2016 Book of Discipline of the United Methodist Church.
F. The Conference Board of Trustees will present the completed disaffiliation agreements to the annual conference for its consideration of ratification. The annual conference will then vote on whether to ratify the disaffiliation agreements by a simple majority vote, which may not include any amendments (JCD 1420).
G. The process for the consideration of ratification of the Disaffiliation Agreements presented by the Conference Board of Trustees will be as follows:
    1. All completed Disaffiliation Agreements will be presented by the Conference Board of Trustees for consideration as a whole.
    2. All debates will be limited to three (3) two-minute speeches in favor of a motion and three (3) two-minute speeches against. This excludes persons inquiring about points of order or asking questions of clarification.
    3. The presentation of the recommendation will not be considered a speech in favor. The presenter of the motion may offer a one-minute concluding remark at the end of the debate before the matter is put to a vote.
    4. At the conclusion of the debate, the annual conference will vote on whether to ratify the disaffiliation agreements by a simple majority vote, which may not include any amendments (JCD 1420).
    5. Poll logs will be maintained for all online votes.

Candace Barron made the motion to adopt the session rules.

Bishop Merrill gave framing instructions.
The session rules, as proposed, would allow for a vote on all the disaffiliation agreements before you in one block. There would be one vote on all of them at once.

Anyone may seek to amend the session rules to modify how we consider these agreements; a majority vote would be required to make that change. Later on, once the rules are adopted, pulling any church or churches out of the block would mean amending the rules, which would require a two-thirds vote to accomplish.

Pending the adoption of our session rules, we will use our established custom of allowing three speeches for and three against, 2 minutes each, for discussion.

Please submit your request to speak via the Q and A. You must identify yourself and say what you'd like to speak to–if you have a question for information, you're bringing an amendment or other motion or speaking for or against. And we'll need you to provide the text of any amendment or motion you propose.

The session rules, as posted and presented, are before you and are open for discussion.

There was one speech against the session rules, as they are written.
Session Rules passed by 81%.

Candace Barron moved to adopt the agenda as it was placed online.
The agenda was adopted by 95% of votes.

Trustees Report: Rev. Dr. Tony Griffin, Chair, Conference Board of Trustees
Mr. Todd Burris, Director of Administrative Services

Good afternoon, Bishop Merrill and members of the Arkansas Annual Conference. Friends, I want to offer a brief reminder and clarification as we consider today's disaffiliation agreements that have been advanced to you for consideration from the Conference Board of Trustees.

First, remember that disaffiliation is governed by ¶ 2553 and the Principles Regarding Local Church Requests for Disaffiliation Ratified by the Arkansas Annual Conference, June 4, 2021" (Principles). Once the Annual Conference has ratified a church's Disaffiliation Agreement according to the Principles, the church must complete all contractual requirements by December 31, 2023. If the disaffiliating church does not, the church will remain a United Methodist congregation and, accordingly, local church property will continue to be held in trust by the United Methodist Church, according to the Discipline.

Second, ¶ 2549 pertaining to the "disposition of property of a closed local church" pertains to churches where "the local church no longer serves the purpose for which it was organized or incorporated (¶¶ 201-204) or "the local church property is no longer used, kept, or maintained by its membership as a place of divine worship of The United Methodist Church." As a matter of Arkansas Conference of The United Methodist Church Board of Trustees policy, this paragraph does not apply to disaffiliation. It cannot be used to circumvent the process outlined in ¶ 2553.

The Board of Trustees has a spreadsheet that contains a list of churches being considered in this Special Session.

Bishop, I want to thank my fellow Board of Trustees members and Mr. Todd Burris and Mrs. Alison Huskey for their diligent work. With that said, the Board of Trustees presents the Disaffiliation agreements for the United Methodist churches listed on the spreadsheet in today's special session for ratification vote for or against the disaffiliation agreements.

Bishop, I move that The Arkansas Conference grants the Conference Board of Trustees authority to make editorial and immaterial changes to the disaffiliation agreements in order to perfect each agreement prior to completion. If you have any questions pertaining to the completion of your agreement, please do not hesitate to contact Ms. Alison Huskey, Secretary, Board of Trustees, Arkansas Conference of The United Methodist Church, at alison.huskey@arumc.org.

The motion passed with 97% of the vote.

Closing Words: Bishop Laura Merrill
Before we close, I think it's important to offer a word of thanks to several people. As always, we need to thank the people who do the hard work that most people do not see. I want to name especially Alison Huskey and Melissa Sanders here in the conference office and Melanie Churchill, LaDonna Busby, Becky Neighbors, Maggie Ramirez, Audria Stephens, and Jodie Myers in the district offices. They have taken the phone calls and kept track of the numbers, names, and papers that make up this process. It has not always been super fun, but they have served well and with good humor. I want to thank Todd Burris, Tony Griffin, the entire Board of Trustees, and our chancellor, Michelle Ator, for their wise leadership and discernment. And finally, I want to thank Rev. Dr. Ann Ferris for shepherding this last stage of the 2553 process since July. It's been a long three and a half months, on top of what came before, and the heavy burden of absorbing and carrying this conflict from place to place around this state has been a gift to the other superintendents and all of us. Ann will retire in December, and I want to say publicly that she has served faithfully and earned the rest that I trust awaits her in the coming year.

So now we go. I want you to hear that I am so glad to serve with you. This Arkansas adventure is a gift of God in my life, challenges notwithstanding. That's partly because I believe, by the grace of God, that we will not be those who say our best days lie behind us. By the grace of God, the days that lie ahead of us will bring mercy, reconciliation, service, and joy. May it be so, in Christ's name. Let's join in our final act of worship.
